Double Orbit Triumph for Soviet

RADIATION COUNT CLIMBS IN JAPAN

TOKYO (AP)—The central meteorological agency said today it has detected this year's highest amount of radioactivity, believed scattered by a Russian nuclear blast early this month.

It said 76 micro-micro-curies of radioactivity in each cubic meter of dust were measured in Osaka last Friday.

This compared to the previous high of 24 micro-micro-curies recorded in Fukuoka, northern Kyushu Island, last Jan. 8. But it was far less than the 278 micro-micro-curies detected in Osaka last Nov. 8 shortly after Russia exploded a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

Tear Gas War Across Wall

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the Communist-built "wall of shame" on the first anniversary of its erection.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It now is the seat of several East German government ministries.

Eastern police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall. Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd. The grenades went off with loud explosions and poured out clouds of stinging, choking gas.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannons, enveloping them in a thick cloud of gas.

The water cannon withdrew about 30 yards. The gasping, choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

A company of 100 Western riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 Eastern police — Vopos — massed on the other side of the wall.

The Western reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall. Traffic and work had halted for three minutes in West Berlin to mark the anniversary.

Wreaths were placed along the wall in memory of at least 37 persons who have died on it during its year of existence.

23-Minute Berlin Talk Does Little

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. State Secretary Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin conferred for 23 minutes today on the Berlin situation.

The conference, initiated by the Russian, "produced no significant change in the situation," the state department reported afterwards.

Rusk and the ambassador "had further comments on the Berlin question and the discussions the secretary held on that subject with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko in Geneva recently," a state department communiqué said.

NO REASON GIVEN

Rusk, it said, called Dobrynin's attention to the Western proposal of June 23 for a four-power meeting "on means of easing tensions" in Berlin. The Russians have rejected the proposals.

The state department communiqué gave no explanation why Dobrynin asked Sunday for a meeting on the first anniversary of the Berlin wall.

James Bishop, state department press officer, said Rusk expects to meet Dobrynin again but no date was set.

Bishop also said that "no papers changed hands," meaning that the Russian brought no written message or note.

MOSCOW'S RED SQUARE Sunday was the scene of this wild celebration after news of the launching into orbit of Lt.-Col. Pavel Romanovich Popovich to join Maj. Andrian G. Nikolayev in outer space. Pictures carried in foreground appear to be of Popovich and in rear, of Nikolayev.

MILITARY EDGE?

Feat Hailed As 'Fantastic'

LONDON (AP)—Russia's latest pioneering space feat was hailed abroad today as "fantastic" and vivid new proof of Soviet scientific prowess.

British scientists said the launching of two manned space ships into close orbits may give the Russians an important military edge as well as a large lead in the race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

Pope John said he hopes the new space experiment "would assume the significance of an homage to God."

"These historical events, as they are inscribed in the annals of scientific knowledge of space, could then become expressions of the true and peaceful progress, with a solid foundation, of the human fraternity," the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio astronomy observatory which tracked the Soviet space vehicles, called the Soviet feat "the most remarkable development man has ever seen... a striking demonstration of the depth of Russian resources — quite fantastic."

THINK RUSSIANS LEAD

British scientists generally viewed the twin Russian space vehicles in close orbit as giving the Soviet Union an impressive lead over the United States in space research.

Some said the Russians might land a man on the moon years ahead of the first American astronaut.

They added it could lead to an early development of anti-satellite satellites that could destroy spying space vehicles such as the U.S. Midas and Samos Satellites.

"It is fantastic shooting to get a second spaceman into orbit within a few miles of the other after 24 hours," said Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society. "This practice of orbital rendezvous means that whereas we thought of a man on the moon in about eight years, we must now think of it much closer, say under four years."

Lovell said it is generally considered that the best method of staging a lunar flight is from a space platform launched in segments and joined in orbit rather than by lifting the whole load on one giant multi-stage rocket.

Professor Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University said: "It would worsen the international tension if the Soviet Union used these successful launchings as a cold war tool."

Kuo Mao-jao, president of the Communist Chinese Academy of Sciences, congratulated the Russians and said their accomplishment "testifies anew to the advanced, outstanding achievements of Soviet science and technology."

In Peking, all Chinese newspapers today headlined the news of the two Soviet "brothers in the sky," devoting much space to the flights of the two space ships as well as biographies and photographs of the spacemen.

'TRAIL BLAZED IN SPACE'—K

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev congratulated Russia's twin cosmonauts today and said the country has "blazed the trail toward group flights into space."

In a special message to Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich, shot into space to join orbiting Soviet cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev, Khrushchev said:

"When I talked to you on the telephone, I was glad to hear that you are cheerful and that you feel fine. I wish you a successful accomplishment of your flight and a safe return."

JFK Salutes

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy has congratulated Russia on its latest space accomplishment.

"I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts," The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

PLAIN AND SPACED LINES show, respectively, orbits of the two manned spaceships which Russia rocketed into space Saturday and Sunday. Vostok IV was slightly higher than its sister ship when diagram was mapped.

Mister Khrushchev made his bid in space—then doubled it.

Million Miles For First Man

(Times News Services)

MOSCOW—One of two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the globe at almost 18,000 miles an hour tonight completed a journey of 1,000,000 miles, a distance equal to two round trips to the moon, with no sign that either space ship was about to return to earth any time soon.

Radio Moscow announced that Maj. Andrian Nikolayev had completed 40 orbits in the spaceship Vostok III by 10 p.m.

The radio also announced that Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich, launched Sunday in the spaceship Vostok IV, had completed 24 orbits by the same hour.

The announcement said both cosmonauts were continuing to carry out their scientific and technical assignments in space, including operating their space ships by manual control.

Both cosmonauts reported they ate dinner with a good appetite tonight and that they felt well. They said the equipment in both their ships was functioning normally.

The two men chatted with each other as their space ships rocketed around the earth in a marathon journey that could open the way to even more daring trips to far-off planets such as the moon, Mars or Venus.

Radio intercepts from outside the Soviet Union earlier had led to speculation that one of the space ships might be brought back to earth today. But the Russians gave no indication that this would happen.

This evening, both Nikolayev and Popovich—the latter flying in virtual tandem with Nikolayev but a day behind in time—sent a joint congratulatory message to Soviet scientists who designed their spacecraft.

NEW TV SHOWING

Earlier, the two men had appeared once more live on television.

Tass news agency said Khrushchev telephoned Russia's cosmodrome to find out about "preparations for the concluding stage of the work—meeting the cosmonauts at their landing point."

A spokesman at the foreign affairs ministry was asked when the landings would be and replied: "I think you could have a good sleep today."

The Soviet premier, believed vacationing in the Crimea, was said to be frequently telephoning the cosmodrome for "information about the life of the group."

MESSAGES FLY

Khrushchev also sent a message to the spacemen wishing them "a successful fulfillment of the planned flight program and a happy landing." They both replied that they would "do everything to fulfil the flight task completely."

A six-minute television transmission relayed to Moscow screens showed Nikolayev raising himself almost to a standing position, smiling at the camera with his lips moving as he talked to earth.

The television broadcast from Vostok III lasted about three minutes and was of excellent definition. Nikolayev was seen making notes in his log book and glancing through his portfolio.

In a later live transmission from Vostok IV, Popovich was seen to rise from his seat, glance through his porthole, smile, drink something and then take his seat again.

BOTH ON MANUAL

A correspondent for Tass said both spacemen had changed over to manual control.

Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, reported the two Cosmonauts were supplied with "tiny sandwiches and pies," wrapped in cellophane and "good for eating in the first days of flight."

The article said that nutrition for spacemen presented great difficulties.

ASTRONAUTS TALK

'Golden Eagle Calling Falcon'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's frequent telephone calls to the two astronauts chatted back and forth as their spaceships looped around the earth today.

"I am Golden Eagle calling Falcon," Pavel Popovich said in alerting Andrian Nikolayev. "Golden Eagle" is Popovich's code name. "Falcon" is Nikolayev's.

"The temperature is 33 degrees (64.5 Fahrenheit), humidity 65 per cent. Have you understood me well?" Popovich asked.

"I am Falcon calling Golden Eagle," Nikolayev replied.

"I have understood you. Everything is all right with me. The temperature is 15 degrees (59 Fahrenheit) humidity 65 per cent. Feeling fine. Slept well."

"Golden Eagle calling. Am in perfect mood. Slept well. Feeling marvelous."

The conversation was reported by a Tass correspondent from the "Cosmodrome" space station. "Somewhere in the Soviet Union," from where the two men were launched on Saturday and Sunday.

JOY UNCONCEALED

"A business like atmosphere reigns in the (ground control) room but people cannot conceal their joy," the Tass man reported.

Thomas Harris was greeted with thunders of applause by a crowd which packed the Royal Theatre Saturday night to hear candidates for office in the forthcoming civic election. Mr. Harris, in announcing he would seek office as mayor, said he has resided in the colony for more than four years, and that much as three years ago had told friends he would stand for mayor if ever the incorporation bill were passed.

The party of settlers for the Cowichan is expected to leave this week. About 100 will likely be in the party. Rev. A. C. Garrett, who has recently visited the area, is confident there will be no trouble with the natives.

A reward of $1,000 was posted here for the apprehension of the man or men who murdered Herman Lewin at the Forks of Quenneville recently.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Only criticism heard of the Mounties' superb Musical Ride came from the lips of a three-year-old spectator at Royal Athletic Park Saturday night.

"Mummy," she asked as the horses trooped past, "why don't they hold tails like the elephants?"

And speaking of elephants, there was the woman who offered one of the purple-painted pachyderms a handful of popcorn, only to have the box whisked from her other hand and chomped.

"That's carrying matters rather far," said the victim, "but then I suppose they need their roughage!"

Victoria's famous horse-drawn Taily Ho really came into its own Sunday morning.

Distinguished passengers on board were former U.S. vice-president Richard Nixon, his wife Patricia and their daughters, Julie, 14, and Patricia, 16.

Now that Saanich police and fire departments have a glittering new building to house them, Victoria police force is the only one left in the city that garnishes its halls with spittoons.

"They're just not progressive there in the city," said a Saanich policeman, shaking his head.

Men of the navigation section at HMCS Naden ask me to state that it was they and not the University Naval Training division which built and manned the popular Bride Ship in the spectacular Royal Canadian Navy parade to Beacon Hill Park last Thursday.

Our red-faced apologies to all concerned.

Sparked by a story in Saturday's Times about a 15-year-old boy who hitch-hiked here from Quebec in two weeks, a call reached this office about a Metchosc 19-year-old who made it by thumb from Halifax in just half the time.

David Anderson, whose residence is on Kangaroo Road, works in Halifax. He made it to Victoria on July 23 in seven days and 14 rides.

Closure of the public boat ramp in Oak Bay gave Beach Drive residents in the Windsor area their first quiet weekend in years.

Apartment dwellers opposite the ramp, adjacent to Oak Bay Marina, had had nothing but a bad time due to endless lineups of cars with trailers, both parked—often across driveways—and waiting to use the ramp, with the result that Beach Drive sightseers also were obstructed.

The overall traffic snarl was a continual source of complaint to police, who are happy to see the ramp banished. But instead of opposing the move, outboard owners so far are silent, accepting new launching facilities at Cattle Point where there are three ramps and room for 100 per cent off-street parking.

In fact, Victoria Outboard Club is attracted to the Marina, despite loss of the ramp, and next month moves its headquarters there from Sidney.

difficulties and that was "why we give such significance to the long flights of Nikolayev and Popovich."

Tass said the two spaceships travelled so close to each other the astronauts could see each other and converse by radio.

(As the two spaceships whirled along similar orbits at 18,000 miles an hour, Reuters news agency said Moscow buzzed with unconfirmed reports that a third manned space shot in the series was planned for today.

NO CONFIRMATION

(Reuters reported that an unofficial but reliable Moscow source said that altogether five shots would be carried out in the series. Officials refused to confirm or deny the report.

(The space shots were believed by Western observers to be the first step of a long-term program to put a platform in space for an assault on the moon.)

Tracking of the vistsoks in Japan and Ohio indicated they were about 75 miles apart—a hair's breadth in terms of space—much of Sunday. But the Ohio Research Centre in Cleveland said that by the evening they had moved 385 miles apart.

Moscow radio said in its 8 a.m. broadcast today that both Soviet spacemen had enjoyed a restful seven-hour sleep "and feel fine."

"During their sleep the pulse of both cosmonauts was near 60," it continued. The apparatus of the spaceships functions without fail."

'FANTASTIC' FEAT

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "a few days."

TO LAND IN CASPIAN

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution's tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, said a study of the orbits indicated the ships were fired from Kosmodrom in Kazakhstan, about 220 miles east of the Aral Sea, and would land about 380 miles north of Astrakhan on the Caspian Sea.

His elation was echoed by the Soviet military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star), which said, "no matter what efforts it (the United States) is making, the gap between it and the U.S.S.R., far from being narrowed, is widening."

Soviet scientists hailed the flight as a triumph but avoided predictions about a moon trip.

Soviet mathematician Lazar Lyusternik told Tass the flight is evidence the Russians have developed a "new calculation technique."

"The new calculation technique enabled the Soviet Union to make the launching of spaceships to the prescribed altitude a matter of routine," he said.

Nikolayev awakened Sunday morning in Vostok III after a seven-hour sleep and had eaten breakfast when Vostok IV rocketed into space with Popovich aboard.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each earth orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

Shortly after Vostok IV was launched, the two cosmonauts sent this joint message:

"We are reporting to the Soviet people, the central committee of the Communist party of the Soviet Union, the government of the U.S.S.R., to Comrade Nikita Sergeievich Khrushchev:

"In accordance with our assignment, we begin the external flight at a close distance. Reliable communications are established between the ships. The systems of the ships are functioning perfectly."

'BLACKMAIL' THREAT

Meanwhile, in Washington, Edward C. Welsh, executive secretary of President Kennedy's National Space Council, said "Russia will be able to practise a form of military blackmail by threatening to put a thermonuclear bomb into orbit, and we can see by the amount of weight they can put up that they would be capable of such blackmail."

Across the United States, televisioners saw films of the two Soviet cosmonauts who are orbiting the earth in twin spaceships. The films were flown to New York after they were recorded in London from Eurovision broadcasts picked up from Moscow. ABC, CBS and NBC then transmitted them across their television networks Sunday. The cosmonauts were also shown in Canada on the CBC news.

SHOWS CONFIDENCE

Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, expressed confidence in the U.S. space program.

Carpenter, vacationing at Palmer Lake, Colo., said the Russian dual-orbit would not alter it. "We've got a good plan put together by intelligent men and we're sticking to it."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

The next U.S. space step is scheduled for late next month, when astronaut Walter Schirra is launched on a planned six-orbit flight of about nine hours.

Next year the U.S. hopes to put aloft a two-man space vehicle, under the Gemini program headed by Canadian-born James Chamberlin, a native of Kamloops, B.C. The U.S. still has to produce and test the bigger capsule that would be required for the orbit. Chamberlin has estimated the mission may not be accomplished before 1964.

Folk Fans Get Grim Warning

ORILLIA, Ont. (CP) — "It will never happen again—even if we have to mount guards with fixed bayonets," grimly vowed former mayor Arthur J. Truman.

He had just returned Sunday from Couchiching Beach Park, scene Saturday night of a huge party by fans attending the second annual Mariposa Folk Festival here.

In about five hours of wild hijinks the fans, most college students, smashed bottles against a statue of explorer Samuel de Champlain, broke a park bench by dancing on it, overturned a children's slippery dip and dragged a small out-house into the main street.

Earlier, police had rushed to the house of an enraged resident who lit an odorous bonfire near the festival while it was in progress.

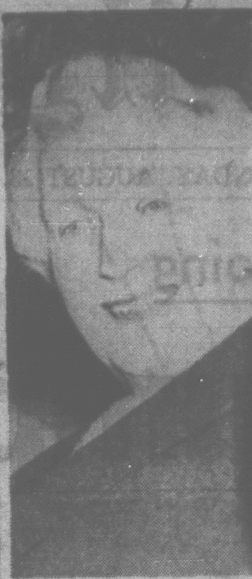

"I hate folk music," he said as police made him douse the fire.

Ghana Expels 2 Churchmen

ACCRA (Reuters) — Two high Anglican churchmen in West Africa were ordered expelled today by the Ghanaian government.

Dr. Richard Roseveare, bishop of Accra, told reporters he was being expelled for criticizing a government-supported youth movement.

He also said Most Rev. Cecil J. Patterson, archbishop of West Africa, was also told to leave the country by tonight.

HOSPITAL STAY by Sir Winston Churchill will continue. Lady Clementine Churchill said today after visiting her husband, now recovering from broken thigh suffered in Monte Carlo six weeks ago. "There is no sign of him coming out yet," she said.

DOVER, England (CP) — Claudia McPherson, 16-year-old St. James, Man., swimmer trying to become the youngest person ever to conquer the English Channel, was pulled from the water today seven miles from her goal.

Ex-Candidate Killed

KITIMAT (CP) — Allan D. (Bill) Vance of Prince Rupert, unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate in Skeena in June 19 federal election, died in hospital Sunday from injuries suffered in an auto accident.

HOW U.S. WRITER IN MOSCOW VIEWS IT

Ivan Sees Himself as Spaceman

This dispatch about the space flight of the two Soviet pilots was written by Theodore H. White, American author of the Pulitzer Prize winning The Making of the President 1960 who arrived in Moscow just at the hour when Vostok III took to the skies Saturday. Written for the AP

By THEODORE H. WHITE MOSCOW (AP)—This capital and all Russia have been caught up in a heart-clutching adventure, as two Russian satellites chase each other around the globe, followed by as many Russian citizens as can possibly crowd around their radio and television sets.

The adventure which has this nation all but wired to its communications systems listening for the latest base-voice announcements of "Nimanie, tovarishchi . . ." (attention, comrades . . .) is above all an adventure in identification.

It is not only mass identification as expressed by the crowds that have been gathering and dissolving since Sunday afternoon in Red Square, or moved by the loud-speakers blaring patriotic music, choral song, and marches along Gorki Street and other main thoroughfares, but a personal identification.

For the Russians, Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich, like Gherman Titov and Yuri Gagarin before them, have become overnight dream symbols, individuals with names, parents, faces, biographies, lifted out of the bleak anonymity which coats all human effort in this vast collective society.

The Russian government, through the sophisticated orchestration of radio, television and press, is sparing no effort to satisfy the country's appetite for human heroes, larger than life but still part of life.

Unlike the presentation of American space flights, which make Americans participants in the minute-by-minute progress reports measured against publicly announced flight plans and schedules, whose goals, objectives and problems are known to all, the Russians' presentation makes the Russian people an audience to a drama whose script will be known only as it unfolds.

In Moscow there has been no such period of agonized concern and worry as wrapped the fate of Scott Carpenter when for 15 minutes he was lost to radio contact from Cape Canaveral, and all America waited on his fate.

For the Russians, the last two days have unraveled like a mystery story with an assured happy ending. Each fact is given cold with no predictions or promise following it. Each news item follows another over radio or television like a happy

CALGARY (CP) — The Social Credit Association of Canada has launched an appeal for $25 a year from 20,000 people.

The August edition of Focus, the party's newspaper, said the $500,000 which would be collected will be used to bolster campaign funds.

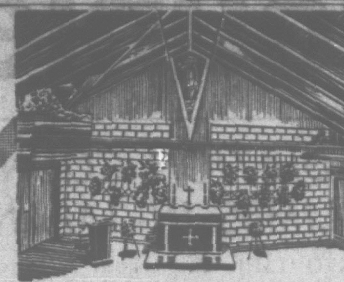

The newspaper said: "In our efforts to build a solid organization to carry out our objectives for the benefit of all Canadians, we solicit your help."

COSMONAUTS PAVE WAY

Space Stations For Longer Trip

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet astronautical expert today said the two spaceships now orbiting earth are paving the way for the establishment of "space stations" for voyages out into the cosmos.

Nikolay Aleksandrovich Varvarov, described as Moscow Radio's "observer on astronautical questions," said in a broadcast:

"Space explorers believe it would be better to launch several large artificial earth satellites, inhabited stations as it were, and from them to send ships into space.

"Such stations would help solve a large number of scientific and technical problems.

MUCH EASIER

"Clearly, it will be much easier and more profitable to direct rocket craft to such space stations. They will bring to these stations personnel for checking and repairing equipment and, possibly to relieve a ship's crew with supplies of fuel, food and other cargo.

"But to solve these problems, one must have satellite ships and rocket craft with the necessary manoeuvrability in space. Moreover, it is also essential to have two-way radio communications between ships. It is this task which is being solved by the group space flight being carried out by Soviet astronautical cosmonauts Pavel Popovich and Andrian Nikolayev.

SAW UKRAINE INVASION

New Russ Spaceman Fierce Nazi-Hater

MOSCOW (UPI)—Lt.-Col. Pavel R. Popovich, 31, was a resident of the Ukraine, an area overrun by the invading Nazi army in 1941.

"The family was hard up," according to his official biography.

"During the occupation, Pavel, who was then 11 years of age, saw death all around him and learned to fiercely hate the enemy," his biography states. "He became a grown-up person long before his time."

Popovich and his wife, Maria, an accomplished flier in her own right, have a six-year-old daughter, Natasha.

U.S. CAN DO IT IN '64, MAYBE

HOUSTON (UPI)—James A. Chamberlin, head of America's project Gemini, said Sunday the United States may be able to duplicate Russia's dual manned orbit in 1964.

Two-man flights in a single Gemini capsule will precede the U.S. dual orbit try in 1964, he said.

As late as 1958 his wife had more flying time than Popovich, whose career has included a stint as an aerial stuntman and fighter pilot.

Popovich returned to school after the Second World War and was given training as a builder-technician before entering military aviation school.

MET AT PARTY

He met his future wife at a party when she was graduated in 1951 from the Novosibirsk Aeronautics Sports Club. Their careers forced them to separate temporarily, but they met again in 1955 and were married.

Popovich became a Communist party member in 1957. He has a high, broad forehead, which his pictures show to be slightly wrinkled. His smile appears to bring out dimples in both cheeks.

Several photographs show the wavy-haired pilot chatting animatedly with his little blonde daughter.

Russ Trawlers Talk to Cosmonauts

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Radio signals intercepted here indicate three Russian trawlers just off the east coast of Long Island have used powerful radio equipment to talk to the two Soviet spacemen orbiting the earth.

James D. Hayes, manager of the experimental Mackay Radio Tracking Station, said voice broadcasts in Russian and coded telemetry signals coincided with satellite signals as the space craft passed over the trawlers and began their trips over the United States.

Signals from space as well as from the trawlers were beamed on frequencies Moscow reported for the satellites, Hayes said.

TALKS RECORDED

He added that both the United States Central Intelligence Agency and the Federal Communications Commission are recording the radio activity. The apparent conversations began after Russia launched Major Andrian Nikolayev Saturday and continued with the launch of Col. Pavel Popovich Sunday.

No one at the tracking station under stands Russian. But Hayes said government language experts said they could understand the muffled Russian voice transmissions, some of which seem to be coming from the spacemen.

The tracking station is a said.

research facility of the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. It has been aware of the trawlers' unusual activity since before the latest launchings. Station personnel estimated at least three trawlers were located about 50 miles off the coast of Long Island.

Hayes said an increase in the radio transmissions was noted more than a week ago. "We suspected something spectacular might be in the wind," he said. "And just a week later they launched the first astronaut and immediately the radio activity reached a peak."

He said the broadcasts continued yesterday with the launching of the second astronaut. "We correlate the increased talking activity between the trawlers with each orbital pass of the astronauts," Hayes

He noted that the trawlers seem to have powerful and complicated radio equipment. "You cannot associate such equipment with an operation like fishing," Hayes said.

He reported voice transmission apparently from the satellites were received on a frequency of 20 megacycles and the telemetry signals were on 19 megacycles. The trawlers were broadcasting on a frequency of 1800 kilocycles, just above the United States commercial radio band.

Asked about the trawlers, Coast Guard headquarters in New York said: "Oh, the navy's handling that." But the headquarters of the navy's eastern sea frontier command said that only the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington could comment.

Sightseeing Bus Depot Idea Dropped

City traffic committee has dropped its own suggestion of creating a downtown sightseeing bus terminal but may revive the idea next year.

Ald. Michael Griffin, committee chairman, said plans were switched because there were a number of technical difficulties preventing use of the civic parking lot on Corner for the purpose.

The committee had proposed that sightseeing bus tours unload their passengers at the lot so they would be more likely to shop in downtown stores before reboarding ferries.

Ald. Griffin said a "whole flock" of problems made the plan impossible but the committee would continue "studying the question and conducting a search of the downtown area for a suitable spot to unload the tour bus passengers next year."

U.S. Tax Cut Plans May Be JFK's Topic

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for 1963 tax cut when he speaks on radio and television tonight on taxes and the lagging United States economy.

Most observers were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

SPACE NEEDLE ELEVATOR JAMS

SEATTLE (AP)—One of three elevators on the 600-foot World's Fair Space Needle was stuck for 80 minutes at the 120-foot level Sunday, trapping 28 persons inside.

Nancy Sutherland, 23, Seattle, elevator operator, said: "There was no panic. All the passengers remained calm."

Miss Sutherland said the car suddenly lost power and dropped 20 feet before emergency brakes took hold and slowed the elevator gradually.

Fair officials said the elevator stalled when a solenoid shorted.

Setback at Brussels

THE NEWS FROM BRUSSELS may cheer the Diefenbaker government but it is bad news just the same. After months of negotiation, Britain has been unable to enter the Common Market—mainly, it appears, because France will not agree to acceptable terms for Canadian and Australian grains. The negotiations are therefore postponed until mid-autumn, the whole timetable disrupted, and the prospects thrown into complete doubt.

This, it is said in London, means a heavy blow to Prime Minister Macmillan. No doubt it does, but much more than the domestic politics of Britain is involved. All the great plans for expanded transatlantic trade, the Grand Design of President Kennedy's tariff policy, the economic future of the free world depended, as a first step, on Britain's membership in the Common Market.

It has been postponed, but nevertheless it has not necessarily been prevented. The autumn negotiations may yet produce a formula satisfactory to France and to Britain by which Commonwealth foodstuffs may continue to enter the British market free of tariff, for a transitional period anyway.

Nevertheless, the danger of a final failure must now be faced. Europe may go its own way, isolated from Britain, but it is absurd to imagine, as apparently the Diefenbaker government imagines, that the existing situation will then continue, undisturbed.

Isolated from the huge and growing market a few miles across the Channel, Britain must find alternative markets. It cannot find them in the Commonwealth, certainly not in sufficient volume. Australia, for example, has increasingly applied import restrictions. Canada has deliberately repressed British imports by ordinary tariffs, by tax devices and lately by special tariffs.

Where Britain can find anything like the equivalent of the Common Market it is impossible to see, and that fact, as Britain now confronts it, will assure a new effort to break the Brussels deadlock. And if the deadlock is not broken, if Britain fails in its policy because of objections from such nations as Canada and Australia, then the strains on the Commonwealth will be wrenching indeed.

But the present difficulties are exactly what the Diefenbaker government had always hoped for. It has done everything in its power to prevent Britain joining Europe while restricting British goods here. It has assumed, quite wrongly, that if the Brussels negotiations collapse the existing tariff arrangements can be maintained and Canada's own situation thereby reinforced—as if that situation were satisfactory, as if the government had not already altered it drastically by a retreat to "temporary protection."

With no real policy of its own, with a financial crisis unique in the free world, with its total dependence on British and American loans, the Canadian government presumes to tell Britain what it should do about the Common Market—but not what it could do without the Common Market.

There official Canadian thinking breaks down. No adequate alternative to the Common Market is proposed in Ottawa because, in fact, there is none.

Worse than that, the present course of events, if it is not changed, must bring Britain, Canada and the Commonwealth into direct collision with the policy of the United States, which is based on Britain's membership in the Common Market.

These are the risks of delay at Brussels, but it is to be hoped that they will be avoided by another round of negotiations, presumably after the Commonwealth prime ministers have met in September and, perhaps, have realized better what failure in the great enterprise would mean to all their peoples.

The Travellers

ONCE MORE SOVIET SCIENTIFIC and technical proficiency has excited world admiration with a "first" in space. The first Sputnik, the first man to orbit the globe, and now the first man to travel in orbit for a period of days—two at once, in fact.

These are feats of which the Soviet people may well be proud. Cold war considerations cannot and should not blind us to these achievements. The acts themselves have been, or will be, duplicated by the United States and no doubt other nations as time goes on. But there is a prestige in being first, and the latest Russian accomplishment will spur the United States on to a suitable reply.

We now talk casually of the "next step," as sending a man to the moon or even to one of the other planets. In such a short time have we plunged into the space age and come to accept with calmness what once were almost unimaginable feats.

Although mankind itself is divided into scores of warring camps, it is still one in its struggle to conquer nature. In this light, the Gagarins, the Glenns, the Carpenters, the Nikolayevs are representatives of man as well as of nations. As such they merit a salute of recognition from us all.

No Solution in Sight

FRIENDS OF ARGENTINA CAN find no way at present of helping the unfortunate country, now emerging from its third major political upheaval within four months.

Democracy received such a setback during the years of dictator Peron's rule that it has never recovered in the great South American republic. There have been attempts to restore the economy and full democratic rights, but both are in sorry condition today. The present government, installed by the army and supported by it, was under heavy pressure from insurgents who are in addition to the existing leftist opposition forces. Now there is rebel talk of establishing a "democratic military dictatorship to rule the country for at least five years."

The implications of this statement are obvious. It would be "out of the frying pan into the fire" for Argentina, whose continuing political instability is of concern and danger to the whole hemisphere, including Canada.

Federal Government: Biggest Employer in the Land and Rapidly Getting Bigger

By Alex Young, From Ottawa

As the federal government struggles under its austerity program to cut and hold the line on costs, questions about the administration's size and growth come to the fore. Is it too big? Expanding too quickly? Here, with a guide to some of the answers, is the first in a series of articles on the subject.

That the payroll for these people will come to well over $2 billion this year? That since 1952 the number of employees has increased by nearly 75,000 or more than 20 per cent? That the annual payroll has almost exactly doubled since 1952?

Those who derive their livelihood directly from the government or government-created bodies can be segregated into three major categories: 1. Civil service (employees of all departments, including RCMP, and some departmental and agency corporations such as the National Gallery and Canadian Maritime Commission).

2. Proprietary corporations (commonly referred to as crown corporations, such as Canadian National Railways, TransCanada Airlines, and Canadian Broadcasting Corporation).

3. Armed services (including Army, Navy and Air Force, but excluding civilian employees of those services, who are numbered as part of the civil service).

Of these three categories, only one—crown corporations—has shown a decrease in total number of employees since 1952. But not one of the three classes has shown any reduction in payroll costs over that period.

The civil service has shown a marked rise in number of employees. In 1952, it had 136,000 employees. Today there are an estimated 206,000 civil servants (the figure of 206,000 is an estimate because an up-to-date total is not available; the latest is 204,000 for March 31, generally a low point of the year for government employment).

This is an increase of approximately 50,000 bodies in the civil service since 1952. It represents an increase of 33 per cent during a period when the population of Canada went up by 30 per cent.

Crown corporations, in 1952, had 143,900 employees. Today they employ an estimated 135,000.

The chief reason for this decrease has been the job-eliminating modernization program of the CNR. The cut in total employment by crown corporations would have been greater, due to the CNR action, but for increases in the personnel of other crown corporations—mainly TCA, with its entry into jet operations, and the CBC, which saw its staff expand quickly with the past decade's TV development.

The armed forces had a membership of 93,599 in 1952. Now the total is 125,479. (This does not include the defence department's civilian staff of 50,000.)

Here is a summary of the total employment in the three categories for the comparative years:

Civil service:	136,000	206,000
Crown corporations:	143,900	135,000
Armed forces:	93,599	125,479

Totals: 373,599 / 466,479

Despite the recent denial by the government of pay increases for 50,000 civil servants in the clerical and administrative fields, civil servants and, indeed, servicemen and employees of government corporations, have not done badly on income over the past 10 years.

This is shown by the fact that while the number of employees in all categories has increased by 20 per cent, the payroll costs have gone up by about 100 per cent.

As Our Readers See It

Poor Show

We watched in disbelief a recent CBC-TV program devoted to Victoria's 100th anniversary.

That half-hour—we were threatened with another instalment to follow—consisted of a great many people registering in a hotel; of close-ups of a great many people masticating; of an estimable lady explaining expensively (we understand television time to be costly) that she would rather continue to live in a large and draughty house rather than sell at a good price the property coveted by a neighboring lumber mill; of a guided cemetery tour with commentary by, no doubt, an expert in the matter; of a bell-boy going about his duties through endless hotel corridors; of the bell-boy reappearing in soulful repose.

What possible connection these scenes had with the avowed purpose of the program may be clear to the arty CBC types responsible for them, but not to us; though this is not the first time when an attempt at subtle satire from this source proved us unequal to its proper appreciation.

Those of us, however, to whom Victoria is not a joke, but a home, thought the whole thing to be in exquisitely execrable taste.

HANS GRUBER,
Hampshire House, Toronto 7, Ont.

No Patron

I was shocked to hear that citizens could not attend the Musical Ride without supporting financially a circus.

Why should Canada's internationally-known ride be used to help advertise a private commercial enterprise, particularly one that is condemned by many thinking persons?

The Musical Ride is an exhibition of good horsemanship with domestic animals, unafraid of man. A circus with performing animal acts is an exhibition of frightened wild animals going through their paces, their spirits broken, their bodies penned in cages most of their unhappy unnatural lives.

This is an inexcusable exploitation of our famous Mounties, and an inexcusable act on the part of our Centennial Committee or City Council, agreeing to such a proposal.

I for one will not see the ride this year as not one penny of mine will ever see the inside of a circus money box.

V. E. COWIE,
3283 Henderson Road.

Animal Acts

It will come as a shock to many citizens to learn our famed Musical Ride is tied up with a circus comprising performing wild animal acts.

As more and more is learned of the terror, injuries and deaths inherent in the capture, transport, breaking and training of wild animals, more and more persons are refusing to patronize these shows.

At the recent Congress of the World Federation for the Protection of Animals which was held in Vienna and attended by representatives from twenty countries, the following resolution was passed: "The Congress urges member societies to campaign for prohibition of performance and presentations of wild animals in circuses, theatres and travelling menageries."

A number of countries have passed or are considering laws restricting or banning such acts and it is most regrettable that the circus which is coming is one which includes these performances.

A. F. DAVIES,

A Trunkful

I belong to the circus. And I resent letters from prejudiced people who think we are treated harshly. Circus life is just right for most animals. We like the travel and excitement and the kids. And circus folks are our kind of humans. I have always wanted to meet a Mounted Police horse and I'm looking forward to seeing the Musical Ride. We have some wild guys in the circus, but no wild animals. Our training is just the same way they train the police horses. I wish people would think, or investigate, before they start writing letters to the paper. Don't let the sentimentalists who have never worked animals fool you.

JOSKE THE ELEPHANT.

It's a Great Life if You Don't Lose It

By B. A. TOBIN

ONE can understand Mr. Khrushchev's concern over the possibility that United States high-altitude nuclear tests might endanger his astronauts. Major Nikolayev, and Lt. Col. Popovich, in orbit.

Apparently he felt that it would be new tests, American ones, and not the much larger explosions he has been making himself, that might do the damage. And, of course, since he gives no warning of his own tests, he would naturally overlook the fact that the United States always gives four days advance notice of its high-level bangs.

All that is understandable enough. But it's the other angle of the thing that has been revolving in my mind. I mean, here's all this concern—and very logical too—that two men up in space might suffer harm from nuclear explosions. But how about all the rest of us, the 3,489,999,998 of us down here looking up? Doesn't anyone, even Mr. Khrushchev, worry about us?

Fall Guys

After all, we're the ones on whom the radioactive ash will fall. We're the ones who'll eat the Strontium 90 wheat bread and drink the Strontium 90 milk. We're the ones who'll wonder some day how little Junior comes to have two heads when the scientists—well, half of them anyway, the rest may have some doubts—will have told us that the danger level of radioactivity hasn't and who else is there to experiment on should be able to stand another 100 per cent of the new drugs turn out cent of lethal dosage before producing two-headed offspring.

Well, it's just a thought. But if the day ever comes when you can tell an astronaut—because he has only four fingers and a thumb on each hand, you can look back to this as the beginning of it.

There was another little item in the news the other day that also has been niggling in the back of my head.

The dispatch dealt with reports that a new contraceptive pill is suspected of causing a few deaths among users. Somebody hotly denied this. He said the pill had been thoroughly tested out before being offered for sale in the United States. He said it had been tested out on women in Puerto Rico.

Hmmmm.

Questions

You know, that raises so many questions. Did they tell the guinea—I mean the women in Puerto Rico that this was just a little gamble on their lives so that the women in the United States wouldn't have to take the same gamble? Did the Puerto Rican women insist on taking the chance, out of the goodness of their hearts? Is this the way other possibly dangerous drugs are tested out? And what countries are listed as the best in which to do this?

There are so many questions. And I don't suppose we'll get answers to them. Or even be allowed to ask them.

But you begin to think that those women of Puerto Rico aren't alone. We're all guinea pigs, one way or another. Now that we've pulled out all the stops on scientific advancement, almost everything we do is an experiment and who else is there to experiment on to have gimmicks. The tranquillizer that deforms babies, the contraceptive that may kill, the stuff that is supposed to reduce the cholesterol in the blood but now is suspected of causing eye cataracts too without extra charge, the life-saving mustard oil for cooking that wiped out a few hundred people in India because somewhere along the line it had picked up a deadly chemical as well—they're all part of the new fad of "living dangerously" which we seem to have to adopt whether we want to or not.

Explorers

There are so many harmless little inventions going round these days which on further acquaintance turn out to be not so harmless. We find out the hard way—the way of all guinea pig flesh.

We're finding our way down a lot of new roads, and on most of them we don't know what's around the turn. Some of the roads we can scuttle back out of if necessary. But some of them are one-way routes.

There's always a feeling that some day we'll read a message from some scientist: "Oops! Sorry, folks, we've made a little slip. We've started a process going that will wipe out the whole world within a week—and we can't stop it. Uh... sorry..."

Oh, well... as long as they feed us

meanwhile and keep the cages clean...

Loose Again

New York Times

SIR OSWALD MOSELY had been a Conservative, an independent and a member of the Labor Party before, some thirty years ago, he organized the British Union of Fascists. In this group he had quite a following, he was so rich and so well connected. The British tolerated him in the days between the wars, even though he went into the East End of London and stirred up anti-Semitic riots. They didn't tolerate him so gladly after his heroes, Mr. Hitler and Mr. Mussolini, set out to butcher the British people and destroy their cities. In fact, during the Second World War he spent several years in polite detention.

But now at the age of 65 he is loose again, and recently he carried his silly propaganda into Ridley Road, which runs through what our dispatch calls "a working-class area with a large Jewish population and many colored immigrants." Sir Oswald, always a man who considers his own ideals lofty and harmless, now denies being a Fascist, and if anti-Semitic slogans are shouted by his followers, nobody can possibly prove that he himself told them to do this.

It is so like the bad-old days come back, but not really very far back. Nazism and fascism at the top of their glories had a large ingredient of the ridiculous in them, and Sir Oswald and his motley followers remain 99 per cent ridiculous and only one per cent menacing. It is for this reason, no doubt, that the British government has decided not to forbid his childish romps.

From Our Files

Aug. 13, 1902 — San Francisco: Senator J. R. Barton left today to inquire into ex-Queen Liliuokalani's claims to Hawaiian crown lands.

Aug. 13, 1922 — Srinivassa Sastri, leader of a moderate school of reformers and most prominent political East Indian next to Gandhi, arrived here today.

Aug. 13, 1942 — Evacuation plans have been completed for Vancouver Island in case of invasion by Japan, it was learned today.

A group of civil servants is refused a pay increase and there is talk of a march on Parliament Hill by the disappointed government employees.

It appears little will come of such talk but the civil servants still growl and mutter darkly about their lot.

Meanwhile, a royal commission quietly continues its nearly two-year-old probe of federal government organization, seeking means of promoting economy and efficiency and slowing down the growth of government operations.

The commission submits its first report but the government, which promised the investigation is not designed to bring about layoffs, continues to keep the commission findings to itself.

And the public, which foots the bill for it all, observes, wonders and takes sides.

Some say civil servants are paid too much, that there are too many of them, anyway, and that the less government we have, the better.

Others say government employees are overworked and underpaid, that people want and demand the vast range of services their government provides and thus should be prepared to support it.

Everyone knows the Government of Canada is the biggest "business" and the biggest employer in the land and is getting rapidly bigger.

But how big? And how fast is it growing?

The Times' own inquiry into these questions, based on facts scattered through scores of official records, has turned up some information worth pondering.

One straight-forward indication of the size can be seen from public works department figures on the size of building accommodation occupied by the federal government—30 million square feet, or 888 acres.

The number of buildings it owns has gone from just over 1,000 in 1957 to nearly 1,500 today. There has been a corresponding drop in the number of buildings leased, but the rented buildings have been generally smaller than those built and owned.

A more graphic illustration of the size and growth of government operations can be obtained, however, from a study of the numbers of people employed by government and their payrolls.

For instance, did you know: That there are now close to 470,000 people in the employ of the federal government or its corporations, agencies and armed forces?

Bright's Disease

Hundreds of people write to ask if there is a cure for Bright's disease of the kidneys and I have to say that today we physicians do not use that name—it is used, I think, almost entirely by laymen who include under that term all the many forms of kidney disease.

There are, I fear, many doctors who, when a laboratory girl reports some albumin in a person's urine, make a diagnosis of kidney disease. Oftentimes, if the doctor were to examine the urine the next morning, before the patient gets up out of bed, he would find no albumin. Later, if he made another examination after the man had walked to work, he would find it.

Then he could know that the man had a "postural" albuminuria, not worth worrying about. In other cases he might find with the "blood creatinine" and "blood urea" and "non-protein nitrogen" tests that the man's kidneys were doing an adequate job. He might note that the man, who had come in perhaps for an insurance examination, was never ill, and yet he had a little albumin in his urine.

A thousand times in these cases it would never occur to me to worry the man about his little "albuminuria." I would have much preferred not to say anything about it, but always I have had to face the possibility that in a few weeks or months he would have his urine checked again, and this time an alarmist might scare him badly. I like to protect such a man from being frightened later by a pessimist.

Often in these cases I get a history of scarlet fever or an acute kidney disease in childhood, and eventually what I saw in my patient of 45 was the leakage of a little albumin through the old scar left in the kidney by that early illness. In many cases, the person who has a tendency to high blood pressure will leak a little albumin from the blood into the urine.

The point I want to insist on is that the wise physician, when told that his apparently healthy patient has albumin in his urine, does not get excited, and does not immediately diagnose "Bright's disease." He will do some thinking and some more observing.

I imagine that a hundred times during my Mayo Clinic days I have saved an essentially healthy man from being branded as having serious kidney disease by finding that his "albuminuria" was transient and due to fatigue. I did what not enough young physicians think to do—I ordered two repeat tests of the man's urine, and they were perfectly normal. The one sample of urine that had contained albumin had been passed early on the morning after the man's arrival at the clinic.

When I asked, "Were you very tired that morning?" the man said, "Doctor, I seldom have been so all in. In order to be here early that morning, as you told me to be, the day before I drove some 500 miles. Then, that night, I was so tense I could not sleep." There, evidently, was the reason for the man's having albumin in his first sample of urine.

A point that many persons should know is that there are several functioning parts to the kidneys and all of them at times can suffer disease. Also, there are acute and chronic, mild and severe and recurrent forms of the disease.

I could go on and on, but I hope this is enough to show that albumin in the urine can mean any one of several conditions—some harmless and some bad. The patient will be fortunate if he finds a wise clinician who will check to see if he is really ill and needs to worry. Sometimes the doctor will send the patient to a urologist who will get a "urogram"—an X-ray study of the inside of the kidneys made after the injection of a certain dye. Occasionally, in the case of an aging man, an artery expert will X-ray the arteries to the kidneys to see if one of them is so badly narrowed that the kidney is suffering from lack of blood, and is producing a high blood pressure.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Names on the Record

LONDON—Arts and letters... Here's a record of interest to those of you who are keen on the theatre, especially if you're actively engaged in stage production.

It's an LP called, simply Theatre, to be released on your side on the "London" label, and it features quite a lineup of British theatrical talent. Namely: Noel Coward, Sybil Thorndike, Albert Finney, Harold Pinter, Sean Kenny, Siobhan McKenna, Kenneth Tynan, Peter Hall and Peter Ustinov.

It would be difficult to get a better cross-section of all aspects of the theatre and, each gives a talk on his or her own special field, a sort of discussion group that will make you feel you're right in the centre of things theatrical here in London at the moment.

Such people as Noel Coward and Sybil Thorndike you know of old, but Harold Pinter, for instance, represents the new things going on in these parts. He's one of the leaders of the "kitchen sink" brigade of playwrights.

Sean Kenny is the most talked about British stage designer for many a year. His massive, brilliant sets for Lionel Bart's new musical, Blitz, are what folks are going along to enjoy, rather than the story and the music.

Albert Finney (you perhaps saw him in the movie of Saturday Night and Sunday Morning) is one of the best of the new group of "virile" actors. Kenneth Tynan, on loan to the New Yorker recently, is currently England's most highly regarded theatre critic.

A must, if you would bring yourself up to date on the methods and purposes of the actor, the director and the stage designer.

HOME GARDEN

Flowers Needed for Visitors

Many projects have been devised to bring the gardens of the Greater Victoria area to the attention of visitors, but the direct approach of presenting them with a button-hole flower is quite ingenious.

The idea is being carried out by the Icebreakers Club, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, and surely no group is better equipped to assess the feeling of visitors and newcomers.

The Icebreakers Club is made up of folk who have been here less than two years, by which time the club has assisted them in breaking the ice, introduced them to various hobby and cultural groups and generally made them feel at home.

This year the group has undertaken the project of presenting a flower or a packet of lavender to as many visitors as can be contacted by its young "flower girl," Risha Golby.

This young lady of 15, incidentally, has her bright eyes set on a diplomatic career, the furtherance of which will be aided by her summer job, with funds being raised by the Icebreakers.

The gardeners of Victoria can assist in this project by sharing the flowers and cut lavender from their gardens with the visitors contacted by Risha in the course of her daily walks along the causeway, up Government St., and wherever her diplomatically-inclined mind may lead her.

Each day she requires fresh flowers, and she still needs more lavender, for the project is to continue throughout August, and into September if possible.

The Icebreakers Club is meeting later this week to make up more lavender packets, and any of you gardeners who have some to donate are asked to take it by Wednesday either to the Blue Lines Sightseeing depot at Belleville and Government Streets, or into the Centennial Headquarters on Douglas St. near Yates, next door to the Bank of Nova Scotia.

Fresh flowers suitable for pinning to lapels may be left at the sightseeing depot only, where a pail of water is maintained for their reception.

I can quite imagine a gardener from some far-off place receiving this little token of friendship in a strange city and mentally deciding to return for permanent residence in our city of gardens.

Arrests Foiled
Trip to Brazil
By Freedomites

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Son of Freedom Doukhobor elder says the sect was preparing to send an advance party to Brazil before RCMP arrested most of the members of the Freedomite's ruling council on charges of conspiracy last March.

Council member Joe Podovinkoff said Sunday that the work party, comprised of 150 sect members, had obtained passports and had enough money to make the trip, and was planning on leaving only days after the mass arrests.

The departure was cancelled because of the arrests of the 70 members of the council on charges of conspiracy to intimidate the Parliament of Canada and the British Columbia Legislature. The charges were dismissed.

Podovinkoff also called for a public inquiry into the troubled affairs of the sect.

"There should be a public investigation, not by the criminal courts alone, but by a commission that would take all factors into consideration," he said.

He said the inquiry by both public and government representatives should review the cases of 13 of about 100 Freedomites convicted of bombings and arson.

Podovinkoff said the terrorists were jailed on the same kind of evidence rejected by a magistrate when he dismissed conspiracy charges against 72 Freedomite elders.

SYNOPSIS—A weak ridge of high pressure has built over the south coast and although considerable cloud will linger along the ridges the day should be pleasantly sunny over most of the lower Fraser Valley and along the east coast of Vancouver Island. The interior too will have sunshine, but cloud and showers will return along the mountains during the afternoon and evening. Scattered showers will persist along the outer coast. A new storm was developing south of the weather ship this morning and will be near enough to the coast Tuesday to bring a gradual increase in cloud with rain by evening.

DOMINION PUBLIC WEATHER OFFICE 6 A.M. FORECASTS

VICTORIA LAD GAELIC MOD OPEN CHAMP

Nova Scotia open highland dancing championship was won Saturday by a Victoria boy.

Angus MacKenzie, 16, was first in five categories, giving him the McLeod Trophy at the Nova Scotia Gaelic Mod. He also received the Abolite Trophy for best male dancer. Angus is attending the Gaelic College in Baddeck, N.S., along with 13-year-old Gloria Smith, also of Victoria. Both won scholarships to the college at the Victoria Dance Festival last April.

Closer Canada-U.S. Link Urged by Richard Nixon

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Former United States vice-president Richard M. Nixon came out strongly in favor of closer economic relationships between Canada and the U.S. during his weekend visit to Victoria—the first since 1946. "It is inevitable," he said, "when we have so much in common."
Smiling confidently, Mr. Nixon also stated his determination to be the next governor of California. He said he will not run for president in the 1964 election.
"The task of serving as governor of California is a full-time responsibility," he said, "and I shall give all I have to it. I intend to serve as governor for four years."
To do this he will have to defeat Democrat governor Edmund G. Brown in the Nov. 6 election.

U.S. INFLUENCE
Advocating closer economic relations between Canada and the U.S., he said:
"There has, of course, been some concern about too much American influence in Canada, and this is understandable. I hope we can have a good, close economic relationship without in any way infringing on the right of the Canadian people to run their own affairs.

"Each is the other's biggest customer and there is a great interchange of people across our borders."
"Do you think Great Britain should join the European Common Market?" he was asked.
BRITAIN MUST ADJUST
"I believe Great Britain will have to adjust herself to the Common Market and find some way to live with it, whether that means joining the Common Market or not."
"Do you agree with the view that the Kennedy administration has done well in foreign affairs but not so well in domestic affairs?"
"Yes, I think that is a fair estimate."

A Times reporter asked Mr. Nixon if he would have conducted his presidential campaign differently in the light of his defeat in the 1960 election.
The brown eyes twinkled and he smiled canily.
"When the majority vote was so narrow, a candidate can always look back and consider what he might have done. Almost anything can happen in a presidential election."
Mr. Nixon, with his wife Patricia and their daughters Tricia, 16, and Julie, 14, arrived at Tod Inlet between 4 and 5 p.m. Saturday in a 75-ft. yacht Olympic Scout owned by Seattle businessman Nat Rogers.

QUEEN'S SERVANTS COMPLAIN TO UNION

Labor Unrest Rife in Royal Palace

LONDON (AP)—Rumblings of staff discontent seeped out of Buckingham Palace Sunday, with 18 of Queen Elizabeth's servants reported complaining to their union.
Bad working hours and excessive regimentation were given as chief factors behind the discontent.
According to one union source, the palace was warned that unless working conditions improve "a major crisis will blow up."
Palace workers belong to the Civil Servants' Union. A union spokesman said: "We would prefer not to comment at this stage."

The 18 disgruntled servants work in a section of the palace called the Royal Mews. Their wages range from around $22 to $30 a week plus free lodging.
Many of them work in their spare time as bartenders or waiters. Their complaint said rearrangement of palace work schedules has made working on extra jobs more difficult.
Another source of resentment is the zeal of palace officers in mustering servants on parade to inspect the shine of their livery and check the polish on their boots.
The discontents appear to have been growing over the last 18 months, during which time 38 palace servants have quit their jobs.

The man in charge of palace staff is 42-year-old Lt.-Col. John Massie Miller, equerry to the Crown. Miller is a friend of the Queen's husband, Prince Philip. "Like Philip he is a keen polo player," said Miller Sunday.
"I refuse to make any statement whatsoever."

Margaret Home From Holidays; To Get Equerry

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret came home Saturday night from Jamaica's independence celebrations and her staff announced she will in future be allotted an equerry to organize her royal duties.
The princess was sun-tanned and smiling as she arrived back by air with her husband, the Earl of Snowdon.
An announcement from Kensington Palace, Margaret's home, said the equerry will take up his post Oct. 1. It was the first time such an official had been assigned to the princess' household and, court sources said, reflected the increasing volume of her duties.
Chosen for the post was 34-year-old Maj. Michael Mitchell of the Coldstream Guards.

It's Gals' Year

Ladies' Day?

Nope. This is ladies' year for fishing in Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association derbies.

Mrs. Anne Rendle earlier this year became the first woman to win top honors in the annual VSAIA-Times Solarium Derby.

Sunday, it was Leah Midlane's turn.

And there was never any doubt about Mrs. Midlane being the winner. She landed the only button-sized fish, a 29-pound, seven-ounce spring salmon, to win top honors in the first of two members' derbies.

Another distaff angler, Mrs. Edna Lohr, took second prize with a 17-06 catch and the men—finally—were represented when Art Midlane came in for third with a 14:13 spring.

Bert Acres weighed in a 2:02 salmon (it looked like something Mrs. Midlane's winner might eat for a snack) to claim the top hidden-weight prize. Other winners were:

Ron Dawson, R. Chamberlain, Cabell Manha, Ken Smith, Sid Upton, Mrs. K. Williams, Paul Newman, A. Simpson, T. M. Little, Jack Jeffries, A. Stewart, D. Dana, Jack Rowe, S. Dyer, N. Johnson, Alf Clinch, Mrs. Marie Wright, J. Waggott, L. Williamson, J. Sadler, Ron Ekstrom, H. Paylor, C. G. Bady, W. Renfrew, Mrs. Carrie Spruce, J. Dana, N. Stokes, Jack Robertson, Al Wright, Paul Howard, Jimmy Lee, B. Sidaway, Sam Spencer, C. Des Roches, Bill Chan, Bob McMillan, Len Scott, Don Mycock, H. Watson, B. Redgrave, Fred Gubbels, Geo. Lanchick.

A lady also stole the show in the Victoria Quarter-Milers drag races Sunday. Dawn Sarslate of Nanaimo stepped into her boy friend's slick Chev and bettered his best time to become the first female member of the exclusive "100 MPH Club."

Dave Fiddick (101), Doug Helli (103) and Lyall Kidd (102) are the others.

Trophy winners Sunday included Gord Hatch, Parker O'Kano, Doug Tribe, Harv Brown, John Thomson, Jim Atterbury, Ray Mitchell, Jim Loisel, Mel Marshall, Gary Cunningham, Kidd and Fiddick.

Bill Wild captured top honors from the men's field in the Victoria Cycling Club's 15-mile feature around Beacon Hill Park Saturday while Carol Hay topped the distaff field.

California Side Can't Hold B.C.

It took the best to stop Southern California's unbeaten march through B.C. Cricket Week.

Turning the trick in the final match of the week-long cricket festival was a British Columbia side, which tripped the Californians by three wickets Sunday at Beacon Hill Park.

Owning four victories and a draw in earlier tussles, the visitors batted first and were all out for 151 runs as former India ace Anil Lashkari pounded out 63 runs and Cliff Sevens accounted for 54.

ACKROYD, WILSON STAB

Most bowling troubles for the Californians were supplied by Vancouver's Ken Ackroyd, who took four wickets for 19 runs, and Rob Wilson, four for 35.

The B.C. side, comprised mainly of Victoria players, replied with 152 for seven wickets. Keith Bickmore paced the B.C. batsmen, stroking a fine 57 not out. Peter Clarke added 28 runs.

Victory made B.C. the first holder of the Victoria Centennial Trophy. It is intended that the trophy will be at stake any time in the future.

DUKLA KEEPS CUP

NEW YORK (AP)—Dukla of Czechoslovakia won the American Challenge Cup for the second straight year Sunday by defeating America of Brazil 2-1 in the final game of the International Soccer League playoff.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS...

Canadian Motorcycle Champion Killed

Four riders elected to pass Carolo Monastero of Burlington, N.J., on the 26th lap of the 150-mile American Motorcycle Association championship at Watkins Glen, N.Y., Sunday.

As they were going by, Monastero's machine accidentally slipped gears and slowed down. All five drivers and machines melded together in a sickening, shrieking clash.

The box score: one dead, one in hospital, three with minor injuries.

Killed: Robert Webster, 29, of Toronto, the Canadian champion; hospitalized: Bates Molyneux, Detroit, broken leg and shoulder, Monastero

HE CRIED FOR RIDE... AND DIED

As sprint cars zoomed by in qualifying trials at Terra Haute, Ind., Sunday, Jackson Wayne Hagemeyer, 27, of Indianapolis, complained to photographer Bill Lundwall about not having a ride.

Minutes late Lundwall took these photos as a car flipped and rolled seven times on its second lap, killing the driver. His name: Jackson Hagemeyer. —(AP Wirephoto.)

Ontario Junior Gets Golf 'First' With Double Win

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sue Hilton, 18-year-old swinger from London, Ont., made Canadian golfing history Sunday by becoming the first junior ever to capture the Canadian women's closed and junior championships.

The second-year University of Western Ontario student did it on the back nine at Winnipeg's Elmhurst Golf Club with a four-under-par 36 after most observers already had conceded the match to another competitor.

Going into the final 18 holes of the 54-hole championship with a 36-hole total of 162,

Miss Hilton fashioned her 237 winning total on a three-under-par 75 over the 6,244-yard course.

Betty Stanhope Cole, the tall, dark, vivacious Edmonton Highlands smoothie finished early with an even par 78 and a total of 238, making a 75 the only score that could beat her.

SMITH CARDS 83

After second-round leader Marlene Netterfield of Winnipeg marred her 36-hole 158 score with an 83 and first-round leader Colleen Smith of Vancouver also had an 83 for a total of 244, none but the most optimistic believed Miss Hilton could turn the trick.

She did it at the turn in the course, dropping a 20-foot putt for a birdie on the par-four eighth hole and following with consecutive birdies on the ninth, 10th, 11th, 15th, and 16th holes, shooting one over 39 on the way out and four-under 36 on the way home.

Miss Hilton made her mark early in the tournament, scoring the only hole-in-one on the par-three, 120-yard 13th at Southwood Friday using "an easy" nine iron.

Defending junior champion Gayle Hitchens of Vancouver was second among the juniors and third among the close competitors with a 241 after a sudden-death playoff with Mrs. Netterfield.

MacWHIA NINTH

Defending Close champion Janet MacWha of Vancouver was tied for ninth, with junior Marilyn Palmer of Kamloops, B.C., with 251.

Today, the women turned into open competition but missing were two of the biggest names in Canadian women's golf. Neither Marlene Stewart Streit nor Judy Darling Evans, the defending champion, had entered.

ZARLEY TRIUMPHS

PORTLAND — Kermit Zarley, Jr., U.S. College golf champion from Yakima, added the Washington State Amateur title to his laurels by defeating Seattle's Tom Storey, 10 and 9, Saturday.

MEXICO CITY—Elroy Sanchez, 12½, Mexico, stopped Baby Luis, 12½, Cuba, and Roland Hedgecock of Alexandria, Va., were treated for minor injuries at the track.

Elsewhere and otherwise...

Dandy to slide as long as your hands hold out is new "finger slide" developed by Frank Robinson of Cincinnati. The right flier says he decided to use his fingertips on his slide into home plate because the toe, foot and sometimes the legs in a hook slide offer "too great a target."

At Seattle, Pacific Coast Baseball League president Dewey Soriano said it was a "shame that it has even been hinted" that PCL baseball would leave Hawaii. Earlier, Nick Morgan Jr., owner of the Honolulu franchise, said it was a "shame" attendance at Hawaii ball games was so low. If it doesn't pick up, Morgan said without any apparent shame, he would have to pack up and relocate elsewhere.

New National AAU three-metre springboard diving champion is Lou Vitucci of Canton, Mass. He won with 487.25 points Saturday at Philadelphia. All-Japanese Kunitachi, all-star baseball team will compete in the 1962 Little World Series at Wil-

SENIOR SIDES SHARE INTERNATIONAL CUP

Pacific Northwest Seniors carried their annual international team match down to the wire Sunday at Victoria Golf Club. Even so, nothing was settled.

Prelude to their 40th annual tournament, which got under way with the qualifying round today, the team match between 20-member teams from the U.S. and Canada ended in a 10-10 draw.

PLAYOFF TIME HERE

Rocks Respect Odd-Man Play

Victoria Shamrocks move to New Westminster tonight for the start of the Inter-City Lacrosse League playoffs with coach Arnie Ferguson uttering one cautious piece of advice:

"Watch those penalties."

Shamrocks' success in the best-of-seven semifinal may well ride with team's ability to avoid unnecessary penalties.

"I respect New Westminster's record, but I think we can beat them," Ferguson said this morning. "... If we watch those penalties, I'd say Westminster has the best odd-man play in lacrosse today."

Second game in the set will be played in Memorial Arena on Wednesday.

Shamrocks playing without regulars Whitey Severson, Al Davies, Don Ashbee and Jack Showers, rang down the curtain on the regular schedule on a losing tone Saturday in Nanaimo.

Nanaimo, sparked by Tom McVie's nine-point performance, clipped the Rocks 13-9. McVie scored three goals and set up six, including four by defence mate John Ferguson.

Ron Jay and Reg Foster each counted twice for Victoria. Jay's pair raised his season's total to 52 to share second place in the goal-scoring derby with Nanaimo's Terry Davis, who also scored twice.

Lost Weekend Spent By Dodgers in S.F.

Maris Delivers Important RBI's For Yank Cause

(Associated Press)

You might say the Dodgers spent a lost weekend with the beats in San Francisco.

Thanks to Felipe Alou and friends, San Francisco Giants have saved the National League pennant race. A three-straight sweep over Los Angeles has slashed a comfortable 5½-game lead to a mere 2½ games.

Instead of wrapping up the pennant by mid-August, the Dodgers may have to fight it out down to the wire. Al Dark, manager of the Giants, said before the series he needed to win five or seven from the Dodgers to have a chance. He already has won three.

The three straight were accomplished with Alou getting eight hits and scoring seven runs in 12 at-bats, boosting his average 10 points to .328. In the Dodger series he batted .667. Willie Mays, handcuffed by Dodger pitching in earlier games, came to life with four hits and five runs scored in 10 trips.

MUST BEAT JINX

The sweep puts it squarely up to the Giants to win in Los Angeles. They have never won a game at Dodger Stadium, losing five there this year, plus five in a row last season at the Coliseum. In fact, they have not won a game in Los Angeles since Aug. 2, 1961.

Juan Marichal turned back the Dodgers with four hits Sunday while the Giants won 5-1. Alou had three singles among the 10 hits off loser Stan Williams and Larry Sherry.

Cincinnati, climbing within seven games of the Dodgers, made Freddy Hutchinson's 43rd birthday a happy one Sunday with an 8-4 victory over the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh Pirates outlasted Chicago Cubs 5-4 in the finale of their long series. The three games consumed nine hours and 53 minutes with respective times of 3:12, 3:09 and 3:32. Bob Skinner hit his 15th and 16th homers in successive at bats to help reliever Jack Lamabe win.

PHILLIES WIN TWO

Johnny Callison drove in seven runs to lead Philadelphia Phillies in a doubleheader sweep over St. Louis Cardinals 7-3 and 9-7. Callison's two-run triple in the first game was a key blow.

Houston Colts broke a seven-game losing streak by defeating Milwaukee Braves 8-5 in 105-degree temperatures.

In the American League it's apparent that Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit 269. Right now he's 254. That's a good average for pitchers. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest-paid men.

New York Yankees gave Maris $70,000 contract this year, knowing he wasn't likely to hit 61 home runs again but hoping he might improve his '61 average. Without doing either he may still be worth the money.

On the weekend Maris drove in or scored every Yankee run in the three games. Detroit won the first 7-2 Saturday. Roger had two RBIs. New York took the second 3-2 (on Maris' 10th inning single) and won 2-0 Sunday (with Roger driving in the winning run and scoring the second).

Aggregate Honors Taken by City Pair

KELOWNA — Monty Holding and Grant Treloar of Victoria Amateur Swimming Club collected aggregate honors Saturday as the Canadian northwest age-group swimming championships ended on a record-breaking note.

Six Canadian marks tumbled in the four-day meet. Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club took the team aggregate title.

BEATS 'MONSTER' TOO!

Palmer Passes Earnings Mark

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Arnold Palmer came to the American golf classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Latrobe, Pa., champion put together four rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total and four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35-70 to win top money of $9,000.

The great effort saw him finish five strokes ahead of the field in his wire-to-wire lead and boosted his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $72,262 he established two years ago. It was also his eighth tournament triumph this year.

and gave Palmer, 32, a career total of 36 victories. No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled to its knees this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

Palmer defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35-66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Gelberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

George Knudson of Toronto shot rounds of 72-73-70-74 for a 289 total and an 11th place tie. His finish won him $1,200.

Ontario Snipers Dominate Squad

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont. (CP)—Ontario shots dominated the 1963 Bisley team named by the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association Saturday at the conclusion of its week-long matches.

Eight Ontario riflemen won places on the team which will be invited to represent Canada at the Commonwealth matches in Bisley, England, next year.

Manitoba placed three riflemen on the 18-member team. Quebec and Alberta have two each while New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and British Columbia are represented by one marksman.

Leader of the Bisley aggregate for the second straight year was Lt.-Col. W. J. (Bill) Strachan of Ottawa, who had 863 of a possible 900 points in the matches.

The B.C. team member is Const. R. W. Ranson of Prince George.

The matches concluded Saturday on one of the most dramatic notes in years.

FO R. A. Pitcairn, a flying instructor at Portage la Prairie had to outscore three veteran Bisley shots in a tie-breaking round to win the Governor-General's match, the main event of the six-day shoot.

Pitcairn, 24, is one of the youngest marksmen ever to win the Governor-General's Medal—most prized Canadian service rifle award.

Sgt. Robert McKay of army headquarters, Ottawa, won the Canadian service rifle championship.

BROWN WINS MAIN EVENT

Gary's Car Too Hot To Make Clean Sweep

Gary Kershaw had a hot stock car in the races at Western Speedway Saturday night—in more ways than one.

He proved himself early to be just about the hottest thing on the track when he won the trophy dash and first heat. All he needed was a win in the main event to score a clean sweep.

So he took his hot car out into the lead. And it got hotter, and hotter, and hotter, for 25 laps—so much so that 100 yards from the finish line he was passed by Dave Brown and Nibs Anderson.

Trouble was that early in the race Kershaw had been involved in one of a number of not-very-spectacular crashes, and had put a small hole in his radiator. By the end of the race with the water all gone, his engine temperature was astronomical, and he was laying a screen of blue smoke.

The evening was worthwhile for Kershaw, however. He moved well up in the individual driving point championship over Brian Wilson and Bill Smith.

Brown also had a profitable evening, finishing third in the trophy dash and second in the first heat.

Trophy dash: 1. Gary Kershaw; 2. Bob Smith; 3. Dave Brown. First heat: 1. Gary Kershaw; 2. Dave Brown; 3. Bob Smith. Second heat: 1. Jim Berry; 2. Tom Eardly; 3. Bob Brown.

Third heat: 1. Dave Ferris; 2. Jack McLean; 3. Ron Hughes. Fourth heat: 1. Dave Brown; 2. Bob Smith; 3. Gary Kershaw.

Main event: 1. Dave Brown; 2. Nibs Anderson; 3. Gary Kershaw.

Inquiry Asked On Tax Sharing

Money Troubles Top UBCM Fall Agenda

B.C. municipalities next month will try once again to find a way out of their financial strait jacket.

Many of the 106 resolutions to be presented to the annual Union of B.C. Municipalities convention Sept. 12-14 in Kamloops deal with the money headaches of civic governments.

One of the resolutions proposed by Langley Township, asks that both the federal and provincial governments set up a royal commission to study the present distribution of tax revenues among the three levels of government.

Other resolutions, most of them repeats from previous conventions, ask the provincial government to undertake more school costs, return federal property grants entirely to municipalities instead of splitting them with school boards and finance all welfare allowances.

BENNETT OPPOSED

Princeton sponsored a resolution which opposes a recent announcement by Premier W.A.C. Bennett that he plans to eliminate present provincial per capita grants to municipalities and substitute grants in lieu of taxes on provincial property.

The resolution said that per capita grants should be retained and the province should pay regular taxes on its property as an additional assistance to civic governments.

Petition entered the controversial power issue with a resolution warning Mr. Bennett not to expropriate municipal electrical utilities.

DISPERSE 'SONS'

In other fields, Nelson-backed by the Association of Kootenay Municipalities—asked the federal government to disperse all convicted Sons of Freedom terrorists throughout the Canadian penitentiary system rather than keeping them together in a special prison.

It also said one of the conditions of parole for them should be that the terrorists and their families must live elsewhere in Canada "and be barred from returning to the County of Kootenay in B.C."

Most of the resolutions deal with technical civic problems but some of them—if acted upon—would change daily life in B.C. communities. Some of these would:

Teamsters Quit Union After Vote

About 35 members of Victoria Teamsters' Union Local 885 have voted themselves out of the union as a result of conflict over a work contract.

The Labor Relations Board granted a cancellation of union certification after a hearing and an employee vote on the question.

Those affected are all but the office staffs of McIlwaine Van and Storage Ltd. and Stocker's Security Storage and Warehouse Ltd., the latter in two Victoria locations.

Certification to the Teamsters' Union was for Vancouver Island in the case of McIlwaine's, and to Victoria only for Stocker's.

A union spokesman said the employees wanted to make their own deal with management rather than adhering to an area-wide master contract in the cartage industry, which had already been agreed to by the other major movers having agreements with Teamsters.

He predicted the "chickens will come home to roost," but doubted that the union would have the units back after their withdrawal.

5 ESCAPE GAS-FED BOAT FIRE

An explosion and fire, fed by 100 gallons of gasoline, destroyed a cabin cruiser in Forster Pass near Chemainus Sunday but the occupants escaped in a dinghy.

Mrs. Ruby Froot was the only person seriously injured. She was taken to hospital with first-degree burns to her face and second-degree burns to her arms and legs.

Others, who escaped unharmed, were Mr. and Mrs. William Frendegast; their daughter, Donna, 16, and Mr. Froot. All were from Nanaimo.

"We were cruising about a mile off Reid Island when the boat suddenly exploded," Miss Frendegast said. "We were carrying about 100 gallons of gasoline and it soon caught fire."

"The craft was a mass of smoke and flames in seconds."

She said some of the fuel spilled on the sea and the boat was surrounded by flames.

"There was no panic as we all got into the lifeboat and pushed away from the cruiser."

RCMP said the 26-foot boat, the Beverly Jones, burned to the water line but did not sink. Damage was estimated at $8,000.

Knife-Wielding Chinese Said Mentally Ill

An elderly man charged with the assault of a neighbor was remanded until Wednesday in city police court today.

A report from a psychiatrist and a doctor submitted to Magistrate William Ostler indicated Mah Kwak Chun, 53½, Figgard Street, was mentally ill.

He pleaded guilty to the assault charge Aug. 6 and was remanded until today for a probation report.

Court had been told Aug. 6 that Mah Kwak Chun had used a 10-inch Oriental knife to stab Mah Quan in the head, arm and hand.

The two men, both living at the same address, had been quarrelling about a year.

NAVY 'SALUTE' ENDS IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Fireworks like flaming umbrellas burst over the Dallas Road waterfront Saturday night as thousands watched the spectacular finale to the Royal Canadian Navy's three-day salute to Victoria.

So many fireworks were exploded at once the usually quiet seafront was transformed into a dazzling blaze of light that flickered over the upturned faces of spectators. (See Page 19.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Some of my friends in the Navy have been asking me, why is your name not associated with the excellent stories in the Times about our Salute to Victoria? Are you no longer friendly with the Navy? What is going on around here, anyhow?

I hasten to reply, I am indeed still friendly with the Navy. I love the Navy dearly, especially when the sun and the foreyard are in proper perspective.

Also, I dearly love the Army and the Air Force. I treasure these facts: an admiral accorded me the honorary title of Senior Civilian Afloat (he did not define Afloat); a colonel added the title of Senior Civilian Afloat Ashore (this was after a rather late lunch); and a wing commander called me Senior Civilian Afloat Aloft on One Wing (I was trying to go home early at the time).

So it behooves me to answer my friends in the Navy who wonder why I was not around and about, writing deathless prose about the Centennial Salute to Victoria.

What happened was, Bill (Sonny) Walker, to the regret of his countless friends, came down with a virulent attack of being unwell (the understatement of the year) and was unable to continue his duties in the key position he holds on the Times news desk.

So the Senior Civilian Afloat Ashore Aloft on One Wing was assigned another part of ship, given a new posting, and became Tail-end Charlie with his feet on a desk instead of a deck.

One and all will be happy to know that Bill (Sonny) Walker is valiantly becoming not un-well, and will be back in circulation in the near future.

And maybe pretty soon the kindly management once more will let me loose aloft, ashore, and aloft.

***

Meanwhile, back at Beacon Hill Park, I had a few chances to see what the Navy was doing in its Centennial Salute to Victoria.

All I can say is, the traditional signal "Well Done" just ain't good enough. Make the signal: WOW-EE!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Roberts was unchained from his desk Saturday long enough to watch a sub-hunt. See story, Page 19.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Kiwanis Club: Empress Hotel, 12:10 p.m. Speaker, Alec Merriman, outdoors writer.

Victoria North Kiwanis Club: Tally Ho Travelodge, 6:15. "Casual" meeting.

Dowell Wary Of High-Rise Near Empress

Civic, planning and architectural officials reacted gingerly today to reports that a multi-million-dollar commercial development is planned for the Empress Hotel property.

The plan—which hotel manager Cyril Chapman said was being "explored"—would:

Create a 12-store shopping arcade on the Humboldt-Government corner of the hotel property; erect a high-rise apartment block on the Belleville Street side of the hotel; double the car park by adding another level and put up a service station.

STILL TALKING

The project, still in the talk stage with no clear indication whether the CPR or other interests would undertake it, would necessarily involve elimination of both side gardens but not the hotel's front lawn.

Acting-mayor Arthur Dowell said the report is still very vague but he is inclined to think that council would be reluctant to rezone parts of the 7½-acre hotel property for service station or high-rise apartment use.

"There would have to be compelling arguments for it," he said. "Of course, so far as the car park or stores are concerned, they do not need rezoning."

'JUST TALK'

Ald. Dowell said he personally "cannot imagine the CPR putting up a high-rise apartment right alongside the hotel."

"I think it's just talk. But it would be a pity if they didn't preserve the hotel's unique atmosphere as much as possible."

The mooted plan—or some variation—probably would be considered by the CPR to offset an expected doubling of its civic taxes when a decades-old special tax concession runs out in 1964.

Under the agreement, the CPR has paid a fixed $34,000 annually on its almost $2,000,000 hotel property. It would have had to pay almost $77,000 if taxed like other property owners this year.

(The city keeps only about $10,000 of the fixed payment, having to turn over more than $24,000 to the school board as the regular school share on the full assessment because the board is not a party to the tax concession.)

REVIEW SOON

No formal discussions have begun yet but city council plans a full-scale review of the fixed rate agreement soon and is not expected to renew it.

Peter N. Cotton, past president of the Victoria branch of the architects' association, reserved comment on the proposal "until there are some more details."

"I would hope that the CPR will build a scale model of their plans so the community can judge what impact they will have," he added.

Mr. Cotton, who previously voiced the group's concern over loss of trees and gardens when the Empress Hotel car park was built, made only one general comment.

LESS VICTORIAN

"The thing that disturbs me about the Empress is that every move they have made in the past 10 years has made the hotel less Victorian and more American."

Local Polo Players Win

Victoria riders captured by Dr. Bill Powell took the initial game of the first polo tournament Vancouver Island has witnessed since 1942 when they bested a Southlands-Riding and Polo Club threesome from Vancouver in six fast chukkas Sunday afternoon.

Score was 11-5. Originally postponed owing to player injuries, the tournament was re-scheduled Saturday night when Col. Marty Griffin, Southlands skipper, reported his team mended and ready.

Spectators filled the stand and lined the edge of the 12-acre polo field off Island View Road.

Second game will start—weather permitting and teams at strength—at 3 p.m. Sunday. Team with top goal aggregate for the two games will be awarded a centennial cup put up by the Island group, which probably will be called Victoria Polo Club.

ROTARY LEADER FROM INDIA:

Individual Contacts Answer To Problems of All Countries

By IAN SMITH

"Individual contacts—that is the answer."

"If we can make people all over the world understand each other by individual relationships, it will be the biggest challenge we can give to the cries of war that we hear all about us."

So says Nitish Laharry of Calcutta, president of Rotary International, and he is doing his part.

Mr. Laharry is in Victoria as part of a tour he hopes will help combat some of the problems facing Rotary clubs all over the world.

"We are moving forward every day," he says, "but this is no time for complacency."

LONG WAY TO GO

"I tell my fellow Rotarians that we have come a long way, but that we have a long way to go. We must all make a very great effort to understand others, to feel others' problems as one's own."

He said it is not enough to be aware of what goes on in one's own country alone.

"It is necessary that people realize problems all over the world, in all countries, reflect on all other countries. We must stand together," he said.

He thinks the European Common Market could be a big factor in promoting this realization.

Mr. Laharry, who has been a Rotarian since 1926, feels the problem particularly strongly since he is president of an organization that is represented in 128 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

He is also a resident of a country that has faced many problems, and has overcome or is in the process of overcoming many of them.

'ASTE SYSTEM

"Take the caste system," he says. "This is not something that can be changed overnight. Legislation was passed outlawing it in 1948, however, and as a result the situation is gradually changing. The situation is correcting itself."

Illiteracy is another problem that India is tackling, and Mr. Laharry expects that "in about 15 years" the problem will be virtually solved.

The worst problem of all, of course, is hunger.

"We are trying to get our masses up to a standard of living equal to that of the rest of the world, and progress is being made even there."

During the past five-year plan, the per capita income increased faster than the population explosion—no mean feat in a country with nearly half a billion people.

Mr. Laharry was to attend a round of receptions today, climaxed by a dinner at the Empress Hotel tonight at 6:30 where he will address assembled Rotarians from all over Vancouver Island. He leaves early Tuesday.

IMPRESSED with the work of the local Rotary clubs, president of Rotary International Nitish Laharry of Calcutta inspects Goodwill Enterprises on Yates Street, a Rotary-sponsored organization for handicapped persons. Watching Larry Gorgenson operate press are, from

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Saanich council meets briefly at 5:30 tonight to extend a withholding period on a building permit sought by developers for a new shopping centre between Burnside and Tillamook.

The permit was ordered held up pending a public hearing, tentatively set for Aug. 27, after planners recommended against the project.

Plans are to build a series of shops facing a supermarket, which would back on a new garden-type apartment development.

One of the shops would be a drive-in type ice cream stand, which planners feel is unsuitable for the location. The area—for some 10 shops—also is inadequate, council was told.

The Old Age Pensioners' Victoria No. 1 group will meet on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Frederick Morry, 705 Pandora, was found guilty of assault causing bodily harm and remanded a week for sentence in city police court today.

Court was told that Morry had attacked Grigorios Rus-anovis, 331 Vancouver Street, with a broken beer glass in the washroom of the Drake Hotel beer parlor.

It took six stitches to close wounds to Susanovis' head and neck.

Chief Mungo Martin is still in critical condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today.

The 83-year-old Indian chief was admitted some weeks ago for a heart ailment.

The League of Roses "Lancs-Yorks" will hold a public meeting on Thursday in the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street, at 8 p.m.

Royal Jubilee Hospital's new five-storey wing will be opened next spring on schedule, hospital officials predicted over the weekend.

Bricklayers currently are applying a special brick facing to match the exterior appearance of the main building while plumbing, floor laying and electrical work is proceeding inside the wing.

Air Force Officers' Association of Vancouver Island will meet Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. in the Air Cadet Building at Patricia Bay Airport.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. Could you tell me the day that Feb. 29 fell on in the year 1907? J.S.

A.—There was no Feb. 29 in that year.

Q. Is the writer and artist Don Blanding still alive? L.M.S.

A. No, he died on June 9, 1957, at the age of 43.

Q. At the turn of the century how much life insurance was owned per person in Canada? F.M.P.

A. In 1901 Canadians had purchased $81 per person; in 1951 they carried an average of $2,500 worth.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

3,500 ENTERTAINED ABOARD N.Z. SHIP

HMNZS Royalist sailed for Vancouver this morning after a week here during which her 550 officers and men gave as good as they received in entertainment.

During the light cruiser's Sunday afternoon open house, a total of 3,500 Victorians visited on board.

Maori crewmen in native costume made a special hit with a ceremonial dance at the Centennial Pageant, and a war canoe float in the Royal Canadian Navy parade.

Royalist, commanded by Capt. J. O'C. Ross, will spend a week at Vancouver before calling at United States west coast ports.

Among RCN ships open to the public during the navy's "Salute to Victoria" last week were minesweepers Fortune, James Bay, Cowichan and Miramichi, which played host to 2,400 visitors.

Keeping Your Car Clean With a Minimum of Effort

By PENNY SAVER

Recently our women's editor had an unhappy experience with a "mud slinger" while driving on a part of Patricia Bay Highway which is being prepared for new pavement. Perhaps you read how her poor little car was sprayed with an unbecoming coat of mud mixed with oil and gravel, and how it took 20 minutes at a car washing establishment to remove this mucky mantle.

With this lurking in my subconscious, it was logical that I should come across a solution which will allow you to say "Mud in your eye!" to any driver who throws tar, asphalt, road oil or grease on your car. It will remove all these.

Substance is also useful in removing residues of old wax and polishes. It is harmless to car finishes so you needn't worry that it will go so far as to denude your car of paint!

Special price right now is 33 cents for an eight-ounce tin.

Dad, does your family seem to melt quietly away when you suggest that the car needs washing? I'm not partial to washing cars myself, but it wouldn't be a chore with a special sponge that I saw for sale in one store.

Sponge contains detergent and silicone waxes, enough to wash and wax your car twice, for only $1.29.

Bits of tar will require something like the remover I mentioned first, but ordinary dirt will be removed by the soap in the sponge.

Car must be done a section at a time and each section rinsed after soaping to remove dirt and set the wax.

When soap and wax in sponge are exhausted, sponge is still good.

If you're having trouble removing the remains of insects there is another sponge which will help you.

An ordinary sponge encased in a mesh plastic coating, its action will be much like the balls of stringy plastic that some housewives use in their kitchens. Price for this handy helper is 75 cents.

When you find the energy to wash your car, call Penny at 382-3131 for name of store where she shopped for these time savers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Emotional Stability Man's Most Vital Asset

When a girl's family sizes up the man she is going to marry, they are interested in the state of his finances, his morals and his family background. They seldom wonder about his emotional stability. Yet many experts feel that this is the most important attribute for a happy marriage.

The emotionally stable person is not sensitive because he is secure in himself. He is almost certain to be thoughtful because he is not self-centred. He is tolerant because he has a "live and let live" attitude. The emotionally mature person is apt to have a good sense of humor because he has his values straightened out and does not take himself or the irritations of daily living too seriously.

Emotional stability on the part of both the husband and wife will make it possible to keep romance alive in their marriage. They will treat each other with courtesy, they will allow one another the right of individuality, they will compromise in matters of taste and interests.

They will not indulge in emotional orgies and will be able to meet the wear and tear of everyday life with poise. They will be thoughtful of one another. More than anything else they will avoid the constant bickering and friction which are humiliating and so damaging to marriage. They will build mutual respect through the years.

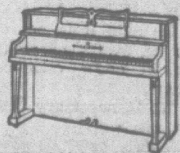

My advice to any young woman would be: It doesn't matter if he is handsome or witty. Just be thankful if he is well adjusted, a mature man and emotionally stable. It may not be as exciting living with an easy-going man as living with the life of the party, but it is a lot more relaxing and unless the sparkling qualities are backed up by more stable ones, I feel sure that it could become very boring. You always can go out and look at a shooting star!

Emotional stability is almost impossible without good health. At least good health makes it much easier for us to act in a mature fashion. Good health is one of the most important attributes a woman can take into marriage. The same is true of a man.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Keeping Romance Alive," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 63 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DEAR ABBY...

You're Not Fair, Honey!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother died three years ago and my father remarried last month. Nobody could ever take my mother's place, but I was told I was getting a "new" mother. I not only didn't get a "new" mother, I lost my father, too. His new wife set up all sorts of rules and regulations to help me grow up "right." And my father is on her side. So, Dear Abby, if you want to give young people helpful advice when they get a "new" mother or father, tell them the sooner they start thinking of themselves as orphans the better off they'll be.

FOURTEEN AND FED UP
DEAR FOURTEEN: Your problem is a familiar one. When a child loses a parent, the remaining parent frequently eases up on discipline out of sympathy. When "rules and regulations" are suddenly imposed again, resentment follows. Your "new" mother will never take the place of the one you lost, but she is doing her best to raise you "right." Give her a chance.

DEAR ABBY: A nephew of mine is being married soon. My husband and I were not invited to the wedding because of a family fight that took place two years ago. The wedding is being held in the church we belong to. I say there is no reason why we can't go to that church and see the wedding. If they don't like it, let them try to throw us out. (Of course, we wouldn't go to the reception.) My husband says we should not go to the church. I don't see why we should stay away since it's our church. What do you think?
NOT INVITED

DEAR NOT: If you want to go to your church to see the wedding—go. And if your husband wants to stay home—go without him.

DEAR ABBY: While cleaning my son's room I came across a letter he had written to you. Dear Abby, He signed himself "STILL IN LOVE." I think you should know that "STILL IN LOVE" was born December 9, 1950. What is the matter with children nowadays?
"STILL IN LOVE'S" MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Don't be alarmed. Your little boy is merely borrowing the romantic jargon of modern times. "Nowadays" children are not much different from yesterday's. Don't ridicule him.

DESSERT HONEY COOKIES

Five cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons mace, 1 cup honey, ½ cup fresh orange juice, 1 cup butter, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, ½ teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 cup granulated sugar.

Sift together flour, baking soda, baking powder, salt, and mace; set aside. Combine honey and orange juice; blend well. Cream together butter, vanilla, orange rind, and 1 cup sugar until smooth and well blended. Add dry ingredients alternately with honey mixture, a little of each at a time; mix well after each addition. Cover and chill dough for 2 hours or longer. Work with a small amount of dough at one time, leaving remaining dough in refrigerator. Roll dough about ¼ inch thick on

Three Little Words Spark Shows

LONDON (CP)—It happens year after year. The whole frothy fever of the Paris fashion shows boils down to a question of three little words—up or down?

The hemline is the one consistently burning issue in the fickle world of fashion. Waists and necks may rise and fall like a yo-yo, but every woman knows nothing dates a dress so fast as being a couple of inches too high or too low after Paris has pronounced.

Consequently it's a subject that always evokes a flurry in the fashion columns before Paris takes the wraps off the new season's collections.

The worst panics tend to occur when short skirts are threatened, perhaps a hang-over from the days when they were a symbol of emancipation. In 1931 a militant British matron declared: "When our skirts get long again our minds will suffer."

Now Anne Scott-James of The Daily Mail apparently foresees a nation of feeble-minded women. Before the July collections she exploded: "If skirts are going to get longer I shall cut my throat."

LOWER DRESSES

It was all very well for the young, she added. They had other assets. "But as you get older and a new crack appears in your face every day, the things that stay with you are your legs."

"The French have always liked covered legs," she concluded bitterly, prophesying a drastic drop in hemlines. "French men are obsessed with the period of luxury and pleasure at the beginning of the century. They love the courtesans and the glimpse of a pretty ankle descending from a carriage."

Insect Bites

A paste of soda bicarbonate applied immediately to insect bites and stings will often prevent itching and pain.

This time the panic was somewhat premature. Hems did drop, but only an inch in most collections. Two designers, Cardin and Patou, dropped theirs as much as four inches for evening, but Marc Bohan of Dior, still the prime arbiter along the Faubourg St. Honore, kept his just below the knee.

Watch out, though, for the real battle of the hemline next spring. The feeling in London is the beginning of a slow downward trend that could set in with a rush next season.

Wedding Vows in Keating Garden

Attractive garden at the Keating Cross Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Goldwin Y. Kirkpatrick was the setting on Saturday afternoon for the marriage of their daughter, Gillian Dorothy Maude, to John Allison Bruce Hill, son of Mr. Allison Bruce Hill, 966 Bank Street. Rev. L. M. Carlson officiated, and H. E. Bruce was organist.

Hanging baskets added color to a large maple tree in the centre of the garden and topiary trees marked the bridal aisle. House was decorated in a floral motif.

A three-quarter-length gown of white lace over taffeta was chosen by the bride. Lily point sleeves were trimmed with pearls and the skirt was full and gathered, with a dropped waistline. Headress was a pillbox cap with matching lace over taffeta, and pearls trimmed the shoulder-length veil. Her jewelry was a pearl studded gold star, belonging to her great-grandmother. She carried an arm bouquet of apricot and flame-toned dahlias and ivy. Mr. Kirkpatrick gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. G. Y. Kirkpatrick, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor in a pale green chiffon over silk dress, with a bell skirt. Gowns of pale green and chartreuse tones were worn by bridesmaids Charlene Nolan and Daphne Kirkpatrick, the bride's sister. Attendants carried baskets of yellow daisies, asters, and dahlias. Niece of the bride, Joanne Kirkpatrick, was flower girl. She wore a full skirted dress of organdy, with a lace top and daisy trim.

Howard Hill, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Goldwin and Robin Kirkpatrick, brothers of the bride.

At the reception, also in the garden, Wallis Connorton proposed the toast to the bride. A cone of flowers decorated the centre of the wedding cake, which was flanked by doves, silver leaves and flowers.

The grooms' mother, Mrs. Hill, flew from Queensport, N.S., where she was visiting, to attend the wedding.

A white silk peau de sole suit was chosen by the bride for travelling on honeymoon. Her corsage was white carnations.

The couple will live in Victoria.

CONVENTION URGED

Spread the Work of CWL In Metropolitan Areas

HALIFAX (CP)—The 150,000-member Catholic Women's League of Canada was urged Sunday night to spread its work into metropolitan areas.

Most Rev. Gerald Berry, Archbishop of Halifax, told 400 delegates and observers at the league's 42nd annual meeting here that the recent census showed an increase in the number of Roman Catholics in metropolitan areas.

The archbishop, speaking at the formal opening of the convention, noted half of Canada's 8,000,000 Roman Catholics live in Quebec, with the other half spread across the country. He said Roman Catholics speak many languages and that the work of the league should be directed towards these groups.

The league's national director, Most Rev. Francis J. Klein, Bishop of Saskatoon, told delegates Roman Catholics must not be identified as "anti-this and anti-that" but as pro a way of life based on the church's Christian teachings.

Bishop Klein said personal warmth and human understanding was needed much more than female efficiency.

Three days of business sessions get under way today.

Irene Gilbert

Wise in the ways of insuring the smoothest route between seasons and the quickest route to round-the-clock chic, Irene Gilbert's flexible costume is a smart day-in-town ensemble one minute, a shapely dinner-and-on dress the next. The princess seamed dress, its neckline squared fore and aft, defines the figure in no uncertain terms. To bring its softly crushed waist bow into focus at all times, the short eased-up jacket is cropped a step higher across the front. This pretty detail dramatizes the flattering skirt drape that slants in from gently flared side panels. Suggested fabrics are sheer wool, plain or printed silk or rayon, faille, shantung, linen or novelty cottons. From these corresponding body measurements select the size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to that used for better ready-to-wear.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	*Length
10	34	24	35	16 1/2 inches

Sutlej Marker Gift of IODE To Be Unveiled

Members of Municipal Chapter, IODE, and the Craigdarroch Castle Society, will join forces on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. for a special centennial year ceremony that will see unveiling of a new marker for the Sutlej memorial in Pioneer Square.

Marker is a gift of Victoria IODE chapters.

The memorial was erected by officers and men of HMS Sutlej in 1860 to the memory of the men of their ship who died at Esquimalt, and also to the memory of a little orphan Indian girl, Maggie Sutlej, who was adopted by Mrs. Joseph Denman, wife of the admiral. Following the ceremony in the square, an outdoor tea and entertainment is planned on the terrace at Craigdarroch Castle.

Mrs. Peter Bell, regent of Municipal Chapter will be in charge of the unveiling ceremony and the society president, James K. Nesbitt will act as host at the Castle.

Dress Tricks For Dieting Teens

Few people are unhappier than the teen-ager who is overweight. At a time in her life when she sees her slimmer friend glide across the dance floor or caper on the beach, she feels bulky and awkward, even if her companions never give her weight a thought. For the young girl who is dieting to lose weight, here are a few tips that will make her look slimmer while the struggle goes on: For swimming, choose a one-piece suit in a dark shade, preferably one with a built-in foundation. Don't select a two-piece suit just because the other girls have them. Chances are they, too, will look heavier in that type suit. For dances, avoid skirts that are too billowy. Choose a dress that has a gored skirt or one with straight hanging pleats. It will swirl when you dance but you'll look much slimmer in it. Watch fabrics, too. The shiny ones will make you appear heavier. Soft material such as chiffon is best. Avoid big prints. These hints will build your morale as you diet, and you'll hardly notice the time pass while you whittle down.

Cherry Olives

Besides canning a good supply of sweet cherries for easy winter-time desserts, you'll want to make some cherry olives. These delicately-spiced appetizers are sure to disappear first from any relish tray.

Leave the stems on and, after washing, pack them loosely into regular glass-topped preserve jars. For each 9 to 10 pints, combine 6 cups elder vinegar, 4 cups water, 3 1/2 cups granulated sugar and 5 tablespoons coarse salt. Cover pan and heat to just under boiling. Pour this hot vinegar mixture over fruit in jars, making sure all cherries are covered by brine. To each jar add 1/4 teaspoon mixed pickling spice. Seal at once. Store several weeks before serving to let full flavor develop.

Mrs. Buda Brown Dies After Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Buda Brown, 67, minister without portfolio in the B.C. cabinet since 1960, died in Vancouver Sunday from cancer.

She had been ill for several months.

As a cabinet minister, Mrs. Brown interested herself in all branches of government affecting youth, senior citizens, chronic invalids, traffic legislation and welfare services.

She had represented Vancouver-Point Grey as Social Credit MLA since 1956.

DEFEATED AS PC

The wife of former Conservative MLA Don Brown, she was nominated as Progressive Conservative candidate in Vancouver-Burrard in the 1953 federal election, but was defeated.

The following year she swung her allegiance to the Social Credit Party and was elected in the 1956 election. She was re-elected in 1960 and a few months later was named minister without portfolio.

Mrs. Brown once said that, if wives and mothers were allowed to take a strike vote during industrial disputes, there wouldn't be any strikes.

THINK OF LOSS

"That is because women think in terms of the whole family and consider what strikes mean to them in the loss of food, clothes, appliances and interruptions to family life."

Born in Bellingham, Wash., Mrs. Brown was the daughter of William D. Jenkins, who started Bellingham's first newspaper and was secretary of state for Washington state when he died.

During the Second World War, Mrs. Brown was chairman of Vancouver United Services Centre hospitality committee. She directed the placing of 10,000 servicemen in Vancouver homes during their war leaves.

She is survived by her husband and a son, Ross.

CCF-NDP opposition leader Robert Strachan said today: "Mrs. Brown served Vancouver and B.C. well and she will be sadly missed. We had a very friendly relationship."

Liberal leader Ray Perrault extended "condolences to her family, the party she represented and the people of Point Grey riding."

LEVITTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Workers Sunday formally ended their strike against Republic Aviation Corporation, sole maker of the 1,400-mile-an-hour F-105 jet fighter-bomber, almost two months after returning to work under court order.

Truce Reported By Chiang, Reds

LONDON (CP)—The London Daily Observer said the Chiang Kai-shek family and Chinese Communist leaders in Peking have secretly and amicably settled the future of Formosa.

A Singapore dispatch says the deal provides for a truce in the Straits of Formosa and for the continued government of the island by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalist Chinese successors for at least 10 years.

The newspaper says Formosa would become an autonomous region of Communist China but would remain under Nationalist control.

The Observer attributes its information to sources in Hong Kong and Portuguese Macao whose statements, it says, had been checked with confidential documents held by "responsible overseas Chinese in Malaya."

The paper adds the agreement was the outcome of seven years of secret negotiations—carried out latterly by intermediates of the two regimes meeting in Hong Kong.

A spokesman for the Nationalist embassy in Washington called the Observer's story "ridiculous and impossible."

WIFE KNITS AS HUSBAND ORBITS EARTH

MOSCOW (UPI)—The wife of Russia's newest cosmonaut is knitting furiously while her husband orbits the earth.

"But with every passing minute she has less and less faith in the assertion that knitting has a very calming effect," the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Tass said Mrs. Marina Popovich, 31-year-old wife of Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, "is knitting all the time."

"There is only one thought in her mind: may everything be well. This is a painful feeling similar to what one experiences high in the sky before the first parachute jump," Tass said.

Mrs. Popovich is a pilot.

You needn't be a big spender to have a ball at the Seattle World's Fair. Thousands of people every day are having the time of their lives for very little more than the price of their gate admission alone. Where else can you see and do so much at so little cost? REMEMBER: with the exception of the Art Exhibit, (adults fifty cents, children thirty-five cents) and the Space Needle, (adults one dollar, children seventy-five cents) ALL OF THE MAJOR EXHIBITS ARE FREE ONCE YOU'RE INSIDE THE GROUNDS! This includes the famous U.S. Science Exhibit, the World of Century 21, the official exhibits of 24 foreign nations and 80 U.S. industrial exhibits plus free shows, free music and free entertainment of many kinds. For sheer color, excitement, gaiety, interest and beauty, the Seattle World's Fair is truly the world's biggest bargain. If you've been wanting to visit the Fair, come ahead and soon. You won't be disappointed.

TIPS FOR FAIRGOERS: Many visitors have been finding accommodations successfully on their own hook, but if you want us to lend a hand, contact EXPO-LODGING Service, the Fair's housing bureau, in advance. PARKING: Absolutely no problem. Plenty of space in lots downtown and adjacent to the fairgrounds. FOOD: If you're economizing don't overlook the vending machines—luscious hot main dish meals at rock-bottom prices. And don't miss the Food Circus—from the familiar to the exotic, it's all delicious and all inexpensive. CANADIAN MONEY AT FAIR: There's no discount at the Seattle World's Fair admission gates. When you buy your ticket with up to $10 Canadian money, you can get change in U.S. currency, or, for up to $20 in Canadian money you can get change in official Century 21 Trade Dollars—good in trade all over the fairgrounds and at hundreds of establishments throughout the Pacific Northwest.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It seems strange that actor Horace McMahon, a quiet sort, a non-playboy, and a non-drinker, should become a top celebrity—but I see it happening here on B'way now that the "Naked City" TV show is heading into another season.

Horace is around B'way just as much as the other stars and frequently he's there as late—but his order always is "Coffee."

"Don't you have some strange experiences not drinking?" I asked Horace.

"I certainly do," he said. "People are always coming up to me next day and saying: 'Boy, I saw you coming out of El Morocco last night, and were you stoned?' You fell downstairs."

"So then you're more determined than ever not to drink?" I asked.

"Yes—but there is one bad thing about it," Horace said. "If you ever do anything wrong, if you ever make a bad mistake, you can't say as an alibi, 'Well, you see, I was loaded.'"

Let's make a note that when it's respectable to do so, we should give a little hand to Joe DiMaggio for acting the champion he's always been in the Marilyn Monroe tragedy... Joe took some courageous, forthright steps to prevent what he saw was coming—risking the breaking of some important friendships.

Doesn't it strike you as sad that on Saturday night—of all nights—Marilyn, the sex symbol, didn't have a date, and went to bed at 8? And that Joe, the world-famous masculine symbol, a hero, is also often alone and lonely? ... Count your blessings, nonentities.

... who caught who?

The secret of happiness could be: "Be a Nobody."

Richard Burton praises Darryl Zanuck as "the most realistic director I ever worked with..."

In "The Longest Day," says Burton, "We were filming a bar scene. It wasn't going well. Zanuck said 'Cut!' He disappeared, came back with two cases of beer. We all got stoned and wrapped up the scene in two takes. That's my kind of director!"

Well, girls, now that Jack Lemmon's been reeled in by lovely Felicia Farr—and a nice catch he is for any gal—here's how she landed him.

For about seven years they'd been going together. The other day she flounced angrily back to California—it was all over forever: forever, d'you understand! After a few days of the Felicia Farr freezout, Jack phoned her, "Hey, I can't live without you! And so it's to end happily in Paris—Jack, meanwhile, is announcing that he was pretty shrewd the way he talked her into it.

***

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Taffy Tuttle, who's going on a world tour, says some people sure get fresh: "When I went to get my shots, my doctor asked if he could see my itinerary." ... Bobo Rockefeller's dozen-year-old Winthrop, who's quite travelled, looked at the wine list at the Volsin, after which Mama said: "Milk!" ... Red Buttons pulled out of a TV show explaining he had to go into a hospital briefly. ... Suzy Parker's off in Japan making another film for Harold Hecht, and photog Sam Shaw says, "Too bad she became an actress. She'd have made a wonderful photographer." ... Is Joe DiMaggio giving up his high-paying position?

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A man who says he's all wrapped up in himself," says Stamper Henry, "may merely mean he was just in a sports car smashup."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If those Communists ever shouted 'Workers, Arise!' in America—everybody'd rush out for the coffee break"—Chase & Reed.

EARL'S PEARLS: "My wife and I never quarrel—she goes her way and I go hers."—Leo Fuld.

A summer repeat: The father-in-law-to-be snapped, "Can you support my daughter on $40 a week?" The prospective bridegroom nodded. "I'll try, if that's the best you can do." ... That's earl, brother.

Earl Wilson

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions by adults will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Serge Rochelle, age 12, of Petawaw, Ont., for his question:

How do glasses help the eyes?

Some of us need glasses to get a clear picture of the distant scenery. Others need glasses to read a page of print. But this does not mean that the eyes are sick or damaged. They just need a little help to do their work better. The lenses in a pair of glasses do what the eyes would do for themselves if they could.

All day long, your eyes are busy taking colored, three dimensional movies. They work much like a camera, though they are far better than the best man-made camera. Each eye is a round ball. The cornea is that bulge on the front of the eyeball and the lens is a window pane of transparent tissue behind it. The cornea and lens work together to cast pictures on the retina, which scratched his head to help reach an opinion. The answer came out in a rather complicated way and even Andy is not quite sure what it means.

On Mondays, he says, the best questions come from girls and the best questions come from boys. On Tuesdays, the best questions come from boys and the best questions come from girls. Monday's pattern is repeated on Wednesdays and Fridays, and Tuesday's pattern is repeated on Thursdays and Saturdays. This pattern, he insists, repeats week after week and year after year—so he is sure his conclusion is correct.

Cause Light Rays to Fan Out

Nearsighted people see close objects clearly, but distant objects are blurred. This is because the light is tapered to form a picture just in front of the retina. Glasses with concave lenses cause the light rays to fan out a little before they reach the eye. The eye can taper these rays to form a picture farther back where it focuses directly on the retina.

Farsighted people see the distant hills but the printed page is blurred. The light rays taper to form a picture too far back, behind the retina. Glasses with convex lenses taper the light rays a little before they reach the eye. With this extra help, the eye can bend them to focus the picture farther forward, exactly on the retina.

Other sight problems call for different types of eye glasses. The expert to consult in all cases is an oculist. He is a doctor qualified to test the eyes and order the right glasses. The oculist is the man who makes the glasses and frames and carries out the orders of the oculist.

Andy sends a Hammond's Library World Atlas to Beverly Curtis, age 12, San Francisco, Calif., for her question:

Are the most interesting questions sent to Andy from boys or girls?

This question made old Andy stop and think for a long, long time. He also looked over his records and

WHY? BECAUSE YOU DIDN'T GET THE RANDALL CONTRACT?

MR. FROST, TELL ME--DID HUNT HARDWELL HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH YOUR NOT GETTING THE RANDALL ACCOUNT?

I'M GOING TO SPEAK WITH YOUR FORMER EMPLOYER, MR. PECK--AND ASK THAT HE TAKE YOU BACK INTO HIS OFFICE!

PLEASE, MR. FROST--ANSWER MY QUESTION!

HEY!... A GOOD FEELING JUST RAN THROUGH ME!

YEP.

LUCKY DEVIL! ... IF THAT WAS ME, IT WOULD PROBABLY HANG ON FOR WEEKS.

WEARING "FLATS" IS LIZZY UNDOING HER FOOT SLIPS FROM HER SHOE--AND AUNTIE FINDS HER UNCONSCIOUS.

A POLICEMAN--AND SHE'S FOUND MY EGG MONEY.

MAYBE SHE'S DEAD. THE STEEL LEGS OF THAT GRASS GRINDER ARE PRETTY HARD.

ANYWAY, I'VE GOT TO MOVE MY MONEY TO ANOTHER HIDING PLACE, THEN IT'LL JUST BE HER WORD AGAINST MINE.

AND IT'LL BE SOONER THAN YOU DREAM...

SHOULDN'T WE HAVE TOLD OUR WIVES?!

WIN, JIM! WHAT HAPPENED TO YOUR HEAD?

ACCIDENT. OUR CAR TURNED OVER. SPEED'S IN THE HOSPITAL WITH A BUSTED LEG AND NOSE.

HOW DREADFUL!

WE WERE TRAILING THAT HELGA WOMAN WHEN SHE BEGAN TOOTING HER HORN, AND THEN BANG!—THIS LANDSLIDE CAME ROARING DOWN THE MOUNTAIN... IF YOU ASK ME, I THINK IT WAS A PLANNED ACCIDENT.

OH, DEAR! THEN I'M MORE WORRIED THAN EVER ABOUT BUZ. HE'S OUT IN THE MOUNTAINS SOMEWHERE ON A FISHING TRIP WITH PUSKINSKY.

YOU MAY HAVE REASON TO WORRY, MA'AM. ONE THING'S CERTAIN: THESE PEOPLE ARE REAL PROS!

OPERATOR--GIVE ME THE CITY HOSPITAL.

HELLO--WHO'S NEW?

MY NAME IS TRAIL, MR. YARN. ALACK, TRAIL.

I SUPPOSE YOU'RE RIGHT, BUT I STILL THINK IT'S A SORRY TRICK TO FIRE A FELLOW WHO'S BEEN HURT WHILE WORKING FOR YOU!

WELL, MR. TRAIL, I CAN'T SEE THAT IT'S ANY OF YOUR BUSINESS HOW I TREAT MY HELP AROUND HERE!

WHAT'S YOUR BUSINESS HERE, IF I MAY ASK?

BEETLE, YOU SHOULDN'T BE OUT HERE IN THIS RAIN WITH THAT COLD!

COME ON--I'LL FIX YOU UP.

NOT WISE.

YOU CAN DIG YOUR FOXHOLE UNDER THAT TREE.

THE MOON IS VERY ROMANTIC ON A SUMMER NIGHT.

IT IS? WHAT A SHAME IT'S ALL ALONE, IN THAT CASE...

Sub 'Hunt-and-Kill' Navy Show Highlight

By MONTE ROBERTS

The RCN Pacific Command interrupted its mainly fun-and-frolic salute to Victoria Saturday with a grim reminder of its reason for existence, the capped the three-day show with a brilliant burst of pyrotechnics.

At 2 p.m., when at least 10,000 spectators packed the Dallas Road waterfront, ship and air units acted out a phase of anti-submarine warfare — the prime role of the Canadian Navy in time of war.

As a prelude to the sub hunt, the Command's thickest

TORONTO GIRL SHOT, THROWN INTO DITCH

TORONTO (CP)—The nearly-nude body of a 16-year-old Toronto girl who had been raped and shot through the heart was found Sunday in a roadside ditch near the Humber River at suburban Clairville.

The weeping parents of Julian Wolanski identified their daughter's body.

Investigators said the body, wearing only silk stockings, had been lying in the ditch for three days after being thrown from a car.

A young woman riding on a horse found it about 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Barkerville, born after ship-

commissioned ships, the four units of the Second Canadian Minesweeping Squadron, demonstrated a harbor entrance clearance routine, streaming paravanes and exploding mines by gunfire, then despatching clearance divers to make the beaches ready for an amphibious landing.

SUB SPOTTED

Then two Tracker aircraft from the navy's VU33 Utility Squadron at Pat Bay appeared over Juan de Fuca Strait and—as called for in the script, timed to the split-second—"discovered" the submarine HMCS Grilse lying on the surface southeast of Clover Point.

Playing the role of the enemy, Grilse immediately headed for the safety of the depths, and within seconds her sinister black hull slid beneath the surface.

But the trackers had spotted her soon enough to be nearly overhead when she dove. They dropped smoke bombs to mark the area and radioed the position to ships of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron, acting as screen for a task force endangered by the sub.

First ship to reach the search area was HMCS Saguenay, which immediately ordered away its helicopter and sent the two Tracker aircraft back to routine patrol.

The helicopter, equipped with dunking SONAR (an underwater listening device attached to a long cable) started its search pattern at the spot marked by the smoke bombs left by the Trackers. Buzzing like an angry hornet almost on the surface of the water, the 'chopper (also from VU33 Utility Squadron) lowered its SONAR gear a half dozen times before the betraying "ping" located the sub.

The 'chopper then relayed range and bearing to Saguenay, whose own ASDIC room had by then picked up contact with the submarine.

Meanwhile, two other destroyers, Fraser and Ottawa, were coming up the Strait to form an offensive pattern with Saguenay. As their SONAR operators locked in on the quarry, orders from Saguenay set a pattern for a nine-burst mortar shoot—three from each destroyer, set in an over-all pattern of different depths and directions.

As the mortars burst (with, of course—greatly reduced explosive charges—HMCS Grilse is the only sub we have!) it was evident that the enemy was squarely bracketed. Within moments, the sub broke the surface, "damaged," but still under way.

The three destroyers opened fire with surface weapons and...

The navy left the spectators to root for their favorite and make their own guess as to who won.

After this short, short version of what is usually a long, tedious, wearing search of trackless ocean miles, the navy returned to the gala mood which has prevailed at Beacon Hill Park since the opening parade ended there Thursday.

As a fitting, fiery finale, a brilliant 15-minute fireworks display illuminated the waterfront from a barge anchored off Holland Point, as another crowd estimated in the 10,000-bracket watched.

An accurate estimate of the number of people who saw parts of the Navy's three-day Centennial Salute to Victoria is impossible, but 40,000 is a likely figure.

Cabinet Returns to 'Gold Rush Days'

By FRANK BUTER

BARKERVILLE—This was B.C.'s capital today as a cabinet "caravan" came to help it celebrate its 100th birthday.

The town that was once the largest, community north of San Francisco and west of Chicago took Premier Bennett and his ministers back to the gold rush days of honky-tonk girls, mustachios and nuggets in Williams Creek.

Official reason for a two-day visit from the cabinet party travelling all this week was opening today of Barker-ville historic park.

Sunday's celebrations included a solemn church service at which Mr. Bennett read the second lesson (he chose Peter I, verses 13 to 21)—and a rip-snorting 19th century variety show of music, melodrama and mirth.

But a sad note intervened after the service in the 93-year-old St. Saviour's Anglican Church.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner received a telephone call informing him of the death of Hon. Buda Brown, minister without portfolio and second member of the legislature for Mr. Bonner's constituency of Vancouver Point Grey.

Mr. Bonner said he will return to Vancouver in time for the funeral.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and Works Minister W. N. Chant stayed in Victoria, and Highways Minister Phil Gagliardi flew while the rest of the cabinet drove the pot-holed 60-mile dirt road from Quesnel to B.C.'s gold capital Sunday.

Barkerville, born after ship-jumper Billy Barker struck it rich in a 42-foot shaft, is living again in a 10-year restoration program.

The provincial government has paid out $500,000 since 1958 to the Barker-ville Restoration Committee and parks branch.

The cabinet—except for Mr. Gagliardi—went to the Theatre Royal to see the show Sunday.

It was a huge success.

The premier was squirted with water by "Century Sam" (comedian Sid Williams, a Courtenay alderman); Education Minister Les Peterson and Mr. Bonner "assisted" mad-magician Fran Dowie in card tricks that weren't.

SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 62 (BOOKED)

VOTERS' LIST
Qualified persons, other than property owners and other than those registered electors and tenant-electors who have filed the confirmation of qualification, are invited to file the necessary declaration with the Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 62, 611 Yates St., Victoria, B.C., from whom declaration forms may be obtained, NOT LATER THAN 5:00 p.m. Friday, August 11, 1967.

The following persons, in addition to property owners, are qualified to have their names entered on the List of Electors:
• RESIDENT-ELECTORS—British subjects of the full age of twenty-one years who are resident and who have resided continuously for not less than six months within the school district immediately prior to the submission of the declaration provided for in Section 66 of the Public Schools Act, and whose names are not entered on the list as owner-electors.

TENANT-ELECTORS—British subjects of the full age of twenty-one years and corporations which are and have been in existence for not less than six months immediately prior to the submission of the declaration provided for in Section 66 of the Public Schools Act, tenants in occupation of real property within the school district and whose names or the names of which are not entered on the list as owner-electors or residential-electors.

CORPORATIONS are not automatically placed on the list and these corporations, qualifying as owners of property or as tenant-electors must also file a written authorization under the seal of the Corporation, naming some person of the full age of twenty-one years who is a British subject to be its agent on behalf of such Corporation. Such authorizations shall be filed with the Secretary-Treasurer not later than August 31st, 1967.

Names, other than property owners, who are not entered on the list, may be added to the list without a person making a new declaration or filing the confirmation of qualification, in accordance with the provisions of Section 66 of the Public Schools Act, by the following:
• W. W. WILSON, Secretary-Treasurer, School District No. 62 (Booked), 611 Yates Street, Victoria, B.C.

CENTENNIAL EVENT RECORD

Musical Ride, Circus Draw Crowd of 6,800

By IAIN HUNTER

An estimated 6,900 people jammed into Royal Athletic Park Saturday night to watch the opening performance of the RCMP Musical Ride and a three-ring circus.

This is the largest crowd to attend any of Victoria's centennial activities.

The size of the crowd was heartening to centennial officials, burdened with a financial handicap from the start of centennial festivities.

"This will pull us out of the hole," said one, surveying the crowd which overflowed the stands and extra seats on the field. Many people squatted on the grass to watch the two-hour show.

Attendance was the more startling in view of the spectacular being staged concurrently by the Royal Canadian Navy on the Dallas Road waterfront.

Victorians and the many tourists in the audience applauded politely as pink elephants, acrobats, clowns, dogs, and horses were put through their paces by a replica of Buffalo Bill at a microphone.

Some of the Carson and Barnes acts never quite seemed to get started, no matter how hard Buffalo Bill blew his whistle, but for the most part the circus operating without its big top was well received.

TRADITIONAL ARTS

This is a very legitimate circus, with the traditional acts such as juggling, and clown routines predominating.

By itself, the circus could have been hailed as one of the best which has visited the city, but it was quite evident on Saturday night, the majority had come to see the Mounties.

To the musical ride the circus was merely a 90-minute overture.

The long-awaited spectacle opened with four scarlet-coated trumpeters riding into the spotlights. A fanfare, and the remaining 28 mounties with the red and white pennants fluttering from their lances, trotted onto the field, their officer commanding, Insp. J. G. C. Downey at their head with drawn sword.

The inspector led the mounted troop to face the stand occupied by Lieut-Governor George Pearkes.

His sword flashed in salute in the lights as he asked "permission to carry on sir."

ELECTRIFYING DRILL

Permission granted, Insp. Downey withdrew to one side, and there commenced 20 minutes of electrifying, mounted drill and manoeuvre.

Applause was thunderous, and grew into steady clapping in time to Bonnie Dundee to

AN AIRCO FURNACE GIVES YOU

MORE THAN HEAT!

Any automatic furnace will give you some heat. The big difference is how much heat and at what cost. These are the things that make all the difference to your comfort, peace of mind and satisfaction.

For over thirty-five years we have been designing and building quality furnaces and warm-air heating equipment. The Airco furnace that you buy today (whether it's a gas or oil-burning unit) is the end result of all this experience. It's designed by heating engineers, built by craftsmen. As a balanced, precise and reliable piece of equipment, you'll find that your Airco furnace gives you much more than just heat. That's why more people in Western Canada today have Airco furnaces than any other make.

If you're thinking about modernizing your present heating system, or if you are looking for a quiet, efficient heating unit for your new home, it will pay you to talk to your Airco dealer first!

Airco furnaces are available in over fifty models. They can be either oil or gas burning units. There is a style and capacity to meet your exact need.

LONG LIFE AND EFFICIENCY

Every dollar you spend on fuel gives you the greatest possible returns in usable heat when you buy an Airco furnace. That means big savings in fuel costs, year after year. You save on maintenance, too, because the Airco furnace is built to last. All the controls are the finest that money can buy. Every part is precisely fitted, inspected not once but many times. An Airco furnace is a long-term investment in comfort and peace of mind!

DEPENDABILITY—OUR FIRST RESPONSIBILITY

Regardless of the furnace you buy, a great deal of the satisfaction that you get will come from a properly laid out heating system and a workmanlike installation. Airco furnaces are sold through authorized dealers, selected because they really know the heating business. You can trust your Airco dealer to select the correct capacity of oil or gas furnace to meet your particular need. And you can trust him to do a conscientious, efficient job of installation.

RADIATION COUNT CLIMBS IN JAPAN

TOKYO (AP)—The central meteorological agency said today it has detected this year's highest amount of radioactivity, believed scattered by a Russian nuclear blast early this month.

It said 76 micro-curries of radioactivity in each cubic meter of dust were measured in Osaka last Friday.

This compared to the previous high of 24 micro-curries recorded in Fukuoka, northern Kyushu Island, last Jan. 8. But it was far less than the 278 micro-curries detected in Osaka last Nov. 8 shortly after Russia exploded a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

No Voluntary Wood Export Restrictions

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada will agree to hold talks with the United States on sharing of the multi-million-dollar United States lumber market, it was learned today.

An informant said an announcement to this effect will likely be made in a few days.

He said that while Canada will agree to the U.S. request for such talks, Canada will not agree to negotiate voluntary restrictions to reduce the flow of Canadian softwoods to the U.S.

The U.S. state department has been exploring the possibility of holding joint talks with Canadian officials following a request from President Kennedy for initiation of such negotiations.

WORK CAREFULLY

The informant said that while Canada will agree to the discussions, the terms of reference will be worked out carefully with the hope of avoiding specific inclusion of negotiations on voluntary restrictions.

Canada maintains such restrictions are not justified, particularly in view of the long-term Canadian deficit in U.S. trade and Canada's current efforts to shore up her economic and financial strength.

Union Found 'Unfair'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers' Union was judged guilty today of a wide array of unfair labor practices in trying to prevent its employees from forming their own labor organization.

MOSCOW'S RED SQUARE Sunday was the scene of this wild celebration after news of the launching into orbit of Lt.-Col. Pavel Romanovich Popovich to join Maj. Andrian G. Nikolayev in outer space. Pictures carried in foreground appear to be of Popovich and in rear, of Nikolayev.

MILITARY EDGE?

Feat Hailed As 'Fantastic'

LONDON (AP)—Russia's latest pioneering space feat was hailed abroad today as "fantastic" and vivid new proof of Soviet scientific prowess.

British scientists said the launching of two manned space ships into close orbits may give the Russians an important military edge as well as a large lead in the race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

Pope John said he hopes the new space experiment "would assume the significance of an homage to God."

"These historical events, as they are inscribed in the annals of scientific knowledge of space, could then become expressions of the true and peaceful progress, with a solid foundation, of the human fraternity," the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio astronomy observatory which tracked the Soviet space vehicles, called the Soviet feat "the most remarkable development man has ever seen... a striking demonstration of the depth of Russian resources — quite fantastic."

THINK RUSSIANS LEAD

British scientists generally viewed the twin Russian space vehicles in close orbit as giving the Soviet Union an impressive lead over the United States in space research.

Some said the Russians might land a man on the moon years ahead of the first American astronaut.

They added it could lead to an early development of anti-satellite satellites that could destroy spying space vehicles such as the U.S. Midas and Samos Satellites.

"It is fantastic shooting to get a second spaceman into orbit within a few miles of the other after 24 hours," said Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society. "This practice of orbital rendezvous means that whereas we thought of a man on the moon in about eight years, we must now think of it much closer, say under four years."

Lovell said it is generally considered that the best method of staging a lunar flight is from a space platform launched in segments and joined in orbit rather than by lifting the whole load on one giant multi-stage rocket.

Professor Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University said: "It would worsen the international tension if the Soviet Union used these successful launchings as a cold war tool."

Kuo Mao-tao, president of the Communist Chinese Academy of Sciences, congratulated the Russians and said their accomplishment "testifies anew to the advanced, outstanding achievements of Soviet science and technology."

In Peking, all Chinese newspapers today headlined the news of the two Soviet "brothers in the sky," devoting much space to the flights of the two space ships as well as biographies and photographs of the spacemen.

'TRAIL BLAZED IN SPACE'—K

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev congratulated Russia's twin cosmonauts today and said the country has "blazed the trail toward group flights into space."

In a special message to Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich, shot into space to join orbiting Soviet cosmonaut Andrian Nikolayev, Khrushchev said: "When I talked to you on the telephone, I was glad to hear that you are cheerful and that you feel fine. I wish you a successful accomplishment of your flight and a safe return."

JFK Salutes

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy has congratulated Russia on its latest space accomplishment.

"I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know wish them a safe return."

PLAIN AND SPACED LINES show, respectively, orbits of the two manned spacecrafts which Russia rocketed into space Saturday and Sunday. Vostok IV was slightly higher than its sister ship when diagram was mapped.

Million Miles For First Man

(Times News Services)

MOSCOW—One of two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the globe at almost 18,000 miles an hour tonight completed a journey of 1,000,000 miles, a distance equal to two round trips to the moon, with no sign that either space ship was about to return to earth any time soon.

Radio Moscow announced that Maj. Andrian Nikolayev had completed 37 orbits in the spaceship Vostok III by 7 p.m.

The radio also announced that Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich, launched Sunday in the spaceship Vostok IV, had completed 21 orbits by the same hour.

The announcement said both cosmonauts were continuing to carry out their scientific and technical assignments in space, including operating their space ships by manual control.

Both cosmonauts reported they ate dinner with a good appetite tonight and that they felt well. They said the equipment in both their ships was functioning normally.

The two men chatted with each other as their space ships rocketed around the earth in a marathon journey that could open the way to even more daring trips to far-off planets such as the moon, Mars or Venus.

Radio intercepts from outside the Soviet Union earlier had led to speculation that one of the space ships might be brought back to earth today. But the Russians gave no indication that this would happen.

This evening, both Nikolayev and Popovich—the latter flying in virtual tandem with Nikolayev but a day behind in time—sent a joint congratulatory message to Soviet scientists who designed their spacecraft.

NEW TV SHOWING

Earlier, the two men had appeared once more live on television.

Tass news agency said Khrushchev telephoned Russia's cosmodrome to find out about "preparations for the concluding stage of the work—meeting the cosmonauts at their landing point."

A spokesman at the foreign affairs ministry was asked when the landings would be and replied: "I think you could have a good sleep today."

The Soviet premier, believed vacationing in the Crimea, was said to be frequently telephoning the cosmodrome for "information about the life of the group."

MESSAGES FLY

Khrushchev also sent a message to the spacemen wishing them "a successful fulfillment of the planned flight program and a happy landing." They both replied that they would "do everything to fulfill the flight task completely."

A six-minute television transmission relayed to Moscow screens showed Nikolayev raising himself almost to a standing position, smiling at the camera with his lips moving as he talked to earth.

The television broadcast from Vostok III lasted about three minutes and was of excellent definition. Nikolayev was seen making notes in his log book and glancing through his portfolio.

In a later live transmission from Vostok IV, Popovich was seen to rise from his seat, glance through his portfolio, smile, drink something and then take his seat again.

BOTH ON MANUAL

A correspondent for Tass said both spacemen had changed over to manual control.

Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, reported the two cosmonauts were supplied with "tiny sandwiches and pies," wrapped in cellophane and "good for eating in the first days of flight."

The article said that nutrition for spacemen presented great difficulties.

'Golden Eagle Calling Falcon'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's frequent telephone calls to the cosmodrome, asking for the latest news and information about the group.

"I am Golden Eagle calling Falcon," Pavel Popovich said in alerting Andrian Nikolayev. "Golden Eagle" is Popovich's code name. "Falcon" is Nikolayev's.

"The temperature is 18 degrees (64.5 Fahrenheit), humidity 65 per cent. Have you understood me well?" Popovich asked.

"I am Falcon calling Golden Eagle," Nikolayev replied.

"I have understood you. Everything is all right with me. The temperature is 15 degrees (59 Fahrenheit) humidity 65 per cent. Feeling fine. Slept well."

"Golden Eagle calling. Am in perfect mood. Slept well. Feeling marvelous."

The conversation was reported by a Tass correspondent from the "Cosmodrome" space station. "Somewhere in the Soviet Union," from where the two men were launched on Saturday and Sunday.

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

AUGUST 13

Thomas Harris was greeted with thunders of applause by a crowd which packed the Royal Theatre Saturday night to hear candidates for office in the forthcoming civic election. Mr. Harris, in announcing he would seek office as mayor, said he has resided in the colony for more than four years, and that much as three years ago had told friends he would stand for mayor if ever the incorporation bill were passed.

The party of settlers for the Cowichan is expected to leave this week. About 100 will likely be in the party. Rev. A. C. Garrett, who has recently visited the area, is confident there will be no trouble with the natives.

A reward of $1,000 was posted here for the apprehension of the man or men who murdered Herman Lewin at the Forks of Quesselle recently.

Inquiry Asked On Tax Sharing

Money Troubles Top Fall Meeting Agenda

B.C. municipalities next month will try once again to find a way out of their financial strait jacket. Many of the 106 resolutions to be presented to the annual Union of B.C. Municipalities convention Sept. 12-14 in Kamloops deal with the money headaches of civic governments.

One of the resolutions proposed by Langley Township, asks that both the federal and provincial governments set up a royal commission to study the present distribution of tax revenues among the three levels of government.

Other resolutions, most of them repeats from previous conventions, ask the provincial government to undertake more school costs, return federal property grants entirely to municipalities instead of splitting them with school boards and finance all welfare allowances.

BENNETT OPPOSED

Princeton sponsored a resolution which opposes a recent announcement by Premier W. A. C. Bennett that he plans to eliminate present provincial per capita grants to municipalities and substitute grants in lieu of taxes on provincial property.

The resolution said that per capita grants should be retained and the province should pay regular taxes on its property as an additional assistance to civic governments.

Petition entered the controversial power issue with a resolution warning Mr. Bennett not to expropriate municipal electrical utilities.

DISPERSE 'SONS'

In other fields, Nelson—backed by the Association of Kootenay Municipalities—asked the federal government to disperse all convicted Sons of Freedom terrorists throughout the Canadian penitentiary system rather than keeping them together in a special prison.

It also said one of the conditions of parole for them should be that the terrorists and their families must live elsewhere in Canada "and be barred from returning to the County of Kootenay in B.C."

Most of the resolutions deal with technical civic problems but some of them—if acted upon—would change daily life

5 ESCAPE GAS-FED BOAT FIRE

An explosion and fire, fed by 100 gallons of gasoline, destroyed a cabin cruiser in Forster Pass near Chemainus Sunday but the occupants escaped in a dinghy. Mrs. Ruby Froot was the only person seriously injured. She was taken to hospital with first-degree burns to her face and second-degree burns to her arms and legs.

Others, who escaped unharmed, were Mr. and Mrs. William Prendergast; their daughter, Donna, 16, and Mr. Froot. All were from Nanaimo.

"We were cruising about a mile off Reid Island when the boat suddenly exploded," Miss Prendergast said. "We were carrying about 100 gallons of gasoline and it soon caught fire."

"The craft was a mass of smoke and flames in seconds."

She said some of the fuel spilled on the sea and the boat was surrounded by flames.

"There was no panic as we all got into the lifeboat and pushed away from the cruiser."

RCMP said the 26-foot boat, the Beverley Jones, burned to the water line but did not sink. Damage was estimated at $8,000.

Knife-Wielding Chinese Said Mentally Ill

An elderly man charged with the assault of a neighbor was remanded until Wednesday in city police court today. A report from a psychiatrist and a doctor submitted to Magistrate William Ostler indicated Mah Kwak Chun, 53½, Fisgard Street, was mentally ill.

He pleaded guilty to the assault charge Aug. 6 and was remanded until today for a probation report.

Court had been told Aug. 6 that Mah Kwak Chun had used a 10-inch Oriental knife to stab Mah Quan in the head, arm and hand.

The two men, both living at the same address, had been quarrelling about a year.

ROTARY LEADER FROM INDIA:

Individual Contacts Answer To Problems of All Countries

By IAN SMITH
"Individual contacts—that is the answer."

"If we can make people all over the world understand each other by individual relationships, it will be the biggest challenge we can give to the cries of war that we hear all about us."

So says Nitish Laharry of Calcutta, president of Rotary International, and he is doing his part.

Mr. Laharry is in Victoria as part of a tour he hopes will help combat some of the problems facing Rotary clubs all over the world.

"We are moving forward every day," he says, "but this is no time for complacency."

LONG WAY TO GO

"I tell my fellow Rotarians that we have come a long way, but that we have a long way to go. We must all make a very great effort to understand others, to feel others' problems as one's own."

He said it is not enough to be aware of what goes on in one's own country alone.

"It is necessary that people realize problems all over the world, in all countries, reflect on all other countries. We must stand together," he said.

The thinks the European Common Market could be a big factor in promoting this realization.

Mr. Laharry, who has been a Rotarian since 1926, feels the problem particularly strongly since he is president of an organization that is represented in 128 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

He is also a resident of a country that has faced many problems, and has overcome or is in the process of overcoming many of them.

CASTE SYSTEM

"Take the caste system," he says. "This is not something that can be changed overnight. Legislation was passed outlawing it in 1948, however, and as a result the situation is gradually changing. The situation is correcting itself."

Illiteracy is another problem that India is tackling, and Mr. Laharry expects that "in about 15 years" the problem will be virtually solved.

The worst problem of all, of course, is hunger.

"We are trying to get our masses up to a standard of living equal to that of the rest of the world, and progress is being made even there."

During the past five-year plan, the per capita income increased faster than the population explosion—no mean feat in a country with nearly half a billion people.

Mr. Laharry was to attend a round of receptions today, climaxed by a dinner at the Empress Hotel tonight at 6:30 where he will address assembled Rotarians from all over Vancouver Island. He leaves early Tuesday.

NAVY 'SALUTE' ENDS IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Fireworks like flaming umbrellas burst over the Dallas Road waterfront Saturday night as thousands watched the spectacular finale to the Royal Canadian Navy's three-day salute to Victoria.

So many fireworks were exploded at once the usually quiet sea-front was transformed into a dazzling blaze of light that flickered over the upturned faces of spectators. (See Page 19.)

MONTE ROBERTS

Some of my friends in the Navy have been asking me, why is your name not associated with the excellent stories in the Times about our Salute to Victoria? Are you no longer friendly with the Navy? What is going on around here, anyhow?

I hasten to reply, I am indeed still friendly with the Navy. I love the Navy dearly, especially when the sun and the foreyard are in proper perspective.

Also, I dearly love the Army and the Air Force. I treasure these facts: an admiral accorded me the honorary title of Senior Civilian Afloat (he did not define Afloat); a colonel added the title of Senior Civilian Afloat Ashore (this was after a rather late lunch); and a wing commander called me Senior Civilian Afloat Aloft on One Wing (I was trying to go home early at the time).

So it behooves me to answer my friends in the Navy who wonder why I was not around and about, writing deathless prose about the Centennial Salute to Victoria.

What happened was, Bill (Sonny) Walker, to the regret of his countless friends, came down with a virulent attack of being unwell (the understatement of the year) and was unable to continue his duties in the key position he holds on the Times news desk.

So the Senior Civilian Afloat Ashore Aloft on One Wing was assigned another part of ship, given a new posting, and became Tail-end Charlie with his feet on a desk instead of a deck.

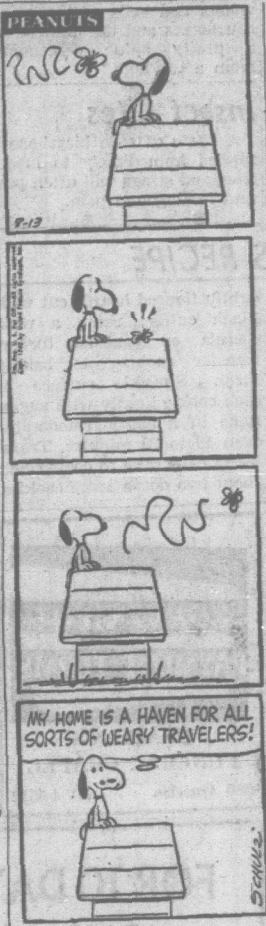

One and all will be happy to know that Bill (Sonny) Walker is valiantly becoming not unwell, and will be back in circulation in the near future.

And maybe pretty soon the kindly management once more will let me loose afloat, ashore, and aloft.

Meanwhile, back at Beacon Hill Park, I had a few chances to see what the Navy was doing in its Centennial Salute to Victoria.

All I can say is, the traditional signal "Well Done" just ain't good enough. Make the signal: WOW-EE!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Roberts was unchained from his desk Saturday long enough to watch a sub-hunt. See story, Page 19.

Dowell Wary Of High-Rise Near Empress

Civic, planning and architectural officials reacted gingerly today to reports that a multi-million-dollar commercial development is planned for the Empress Hotel property.

The plan—which hotel manager Cyril Chapman said was being "explored"—would:

Create a 12-store shopping arcade on the Humboldt-Government corner of the hotel property; erect a high-rise apartment block on the Belleville Street side of the hotel; double the car park by adding another level and put up a service station.

STILL TALKING

The project, still in the talk stage with no clear indication whether the CPR or other interests would undertake it, would necessarily involve elimination of both side gardens but not the hotel's front lawn.

Acting-mayor Arthur Dowell said the report is still very vague but he was inclined to think that council would be reluctant to rezone parts of the 7½-acre hotel property for service station or high-rise apartment use.

"There would have to be compelling arguments for it," he said. "Of course, so far as the car park or stores are concerned, they do not need rezoning."

'JUST TALK'

Ald. Dowell said he personally "cannot imagine the CPR putting up a high-rise apartment right alongside the hotel."

"I think it's just talk. But it would be a pity if they didn't preserve the hotel's unique atmosphere as much as possible."

The mooted plan—or some variation—probably would be considered by the CPR to offset an expected doubling of its civic taxes when a decades-old special tax concession runs out in 1964.

Under the agreement, the CPR has paid a fixed $34,000 annually on its almost $2,000,000 hotel property. It would have had to pay almost $77,000 if taxed like other property owners this year.

(The city keeps only about $10,000 of the fixed payment, having to turn over more than $24,000 to the school board as the regular school share on the full assessment because the board is not a party to the tax concession.)

REVIEW SOON

No formal discussions have begun yet but city council plans a full-scale review of the fixed rate agreement soon and is not expected to renew it.

Peter N. Cotton, past president of the Victoria branch of the architects' association, reserved comment on the proposal "until there are some more details."

"I would hope that the CPR will build a scale model of their plans so the community can judge what impact they will have," he added.

Mr. Cotton, who previously voiced the group's concern over loss of trees and gardens when the Empress Hotel car park was built, made only one general comment.

LESS VICTORIAN

"The thing that disturbs me about the Empress is that every move they have made in the past 10 years has made the hotel less Victorian and more American."

TUESDAY MEETINGS

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Saanich council meets briefly at 5.30 tonight to extend a withholding period on a building permit sought by developers for a new shopping centre between Burnside and Tillamook.

The permit was ordered held up pending a public hearing, tentatively set for Aug. 27, after planners recommended against the project.

Plans are to build a series of shops facing a supermarket, which would back on a new garden-type apartment development.

One of the shops would be a drive-in type ice cream stand, which planners feel is unsuitable for the location. The area—for some 10 shops—also is inadequate, council was told.

The Old Age Pensioners' Victoria No. 1 group will meet on Wednesday at 1.30 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Frederick Morry, 705 Pandora, was found guilty of assault causing bodily harm and remanded a week for sentence in city police court today.

Court was told that Morry had attacked Grigorios Rusanovs, 331 Vancouver Street, with a broken beer glass in the washroom of the Drake Hotel beer parlor.

Chief Mungo Martin is still in critical condition in St. Joseph's Hospital today.

The 83-year-old Indian chief was admitted some weeks ago for a heart ailment.

The league of Rosés "Lancashire" will hold a public meeting on Thursday in the Newstead Hall, 734 Fort Street, at 8 p.m.

3,500 ENTERTAINED ABOARD N.Z. SHIP

HMNZS Royalist sailed for Vancouver this morning after a week here during which her 550 officers and men gave as good as they received in entertainment.

During the light cruiser's Sunday afternoon open house, a total of 3,500 Victorians visited on board.

Maori crewmen in native costume made a special hit with a ceremonial dance at the Centennial Pageant, and a war canoe float in the Royal Canadian Navy parade.

Royalist, commanded by Capt. J. O'C. Ross, will spend a week at Vancouver before calling at United States west coast ports.

Among RCN ships open to the public during the navy's "Salute to Victoria" last week were minesweepers Fortune, James Bay, Cowichan and Miramichi, which played host to 2,400 visitors.

IMPRESSED with the work of the local Rotary clubs, president of Rotary International Nitish Laharry of Calcutta inspects Goodwill Enterprises on Yates Street, a Rotary-sponsored organization for handicapped persons. Watching Larry Gorgenson operate press are, from

Police Call Off Cariboo Search

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—RCMP said today the official search for Marjorie Callis, 59, missing in rugged bush near here for six days has been abandoned.

Officers said, however, individuals are continuing the search for the civil servant from Sheffield, Eng., who disappeared last Tuesday while on a painting expedition. Miss Callis was visiting on a nephew's ranch in the remote Blackwater district 275 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Capsule From Balloon Still Sought

THE PAS, Man. (CP)—A capsule released from a high-altitude balloon Sunday was still the object of a search in northern Manitoba today with officials of the recovery team expressing little hope of finding it.

The capsule, containing two monkeys, four hamsters and radiation intensity record instruments, was released from a balloon sent aloft Thursday at Goose Bay, Labrador.

Argentina Strike Riot Broken Up

BUESNOS AIRES (AP)—Police using tear gas broke up a demonstration by 1,500 meat packers today and all meat plants in the Argentine capital shut down.

More than 30,000 meat workers joined in supporting demonstrators from the big packing plant of La Negra in the Avellaneda district.

Fierce Fight
Waged Over
Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Crowds of West Berliners attacked Soviet vehicles and hurled paving stones tonight in an outbreak of rioting against the Communist wall dividing the city.

The West Berliners smashed the front window of a Soviet bus taking soldiers back from duty on the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin, West Berlin police said. The rear window of a Soviet sedan following the bus was also reported smashed.

A second sedan was pelted with beer bottles, police said.

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the Communist-built "wall of shame" on the first anniversary of its erection.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It now is the seat of several East German government ministries.

Eastern police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd. The grenades went off with loud explosions and poured out clouds of stinging, choking gas.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon,

Feat
Hailed

LONDON (AP)—Russia's latest pioneering space feat was hailed abroad today as "fantastic" and vivid new proof of Soviet scientific prowess.

British scientists said the launching of two manned space ships into close orbits may give the Russians an important military edge as well as a large lead in the race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

Pope John said he hopes the new space experiment "would assume the significance of an homage to God."

"These historical events, as they are inscribed in the annals of scientific knowledge of space, could then become expressions of the true and peaceful progress, with a solid foundation, of the human fraternity," the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio astronomy observatory which tracked the Soviet space vehicles, called the Soviet feat "the most remarkable development man has ever seen... a striking demonstration of the depth of Russian resources — quite fantastic."

THINK RUSSIANS LEAD

British scientists generally viewed the twin Russian space vehicles in close orbit as giving the Soviet Union an impressive lead over the United States in space research.

Some said the Russians might land a man on the moon years ahead of the first American astronaut.

They added it could lead to an early development of anti-satellite satellites that could destroy spying space vehicles such as the U.S. Midas and Samos satellites.

"It is fantastic shooting to get a second spaceman into orbit within a few miles of the other after 24 hours," said Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society. "This practice of orbital rendezvous means that whereas we thought of a man on the moon in about eight years, we must now think of it much closer, say under four years."

Lovell said it is generally considered that the best method of staging a lunar flight is from a space platform launched in segments and joined in orbit rather than by lifting the whole load on one giant multi-stage rocket.

Professor Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University said: "It would worsen the international tension if the Soviet Union used these successful launchings" as a cold war tool.

Kuo Mao-tao, president of the Communist Chinese Academy of Sciences, congratulated the Russians and said their accomplishment "testifies anew to the advanced, outstanding achievements of Soviet science and technology."

In Peking, all Chinese newspapers today headlined the news of the two Soviet "brothers in the sky," devoting much space to the flights of the two space ships as well as biographies and photographs of the spacemen.

Return to Earth
Not Definite

(Times News Services)

MOSCOW—One of two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the globe at almost 18,000 miles an hour tonight completed a journey of 1,000,000 miles, a distance equal to two round trips to the moon, with no sign that either space ship was about to return to earth any time soon.

Radio Moscow announced that Maj. Andrian Nikolayev had completed 40 orbits in the spaceship Vostok III by 10 p.m.

The radio also announced that Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich, launched Sunday in the spaceship Vostok IV, had completed 24 orbits by the same hour.

The announcement said both cosmonauts were continuing to carry out their scientific and technical assignments in space, including operating their space ships by manual control.

Both cosmonauts reported they ate dinner with a good appetite tonight and that they felt well. They said the equipment in both their ships was functioning normally.

The two men chatted with each other as their space ships rocketed around the earth in a marathon journey that could open the way to even more daring trips to far-off planets such as the moon, Mars or Venus.

Radio intercepts from outside the Soviet Union earlier had led to speculation that one of the space ships might be brought back to earth today. But the Russians gave no indication that this would happen.

This evening, both Nikolayev and Popovich—the latter flying in virtual tandem with Nikolayev but a day behind in time—sent a joint congratulatory message to Soviet scientists who designed their spacecraft.

NEW TV SHOWING

Earlier, the two men had appeared once more live on television.

Tass news agency said Khrushchev telephoned Russia's cosmodrome to find out about "preparations for the concluding stage of the work—meeting the cosmonauts at their landing point."

A spokesman at the foreign affairs ministry was asked when the landings would be and replied: "I think you could have a good sleep today."

The Soviet premier, believed vacationing in the Crimea, was said to be frequently telephoning the cosmodrome for "information about the life of the cosmonauts."

MESSAGES FLY

Khrushchev also sent a message to the spacemen wishing them "a successful fulfillment of the planned flight program and a happy landing." They both replied that they would "do everything to fulfill the flight task completely."

A six-minute television transmission relayed to Moscow screens showed Nikolayev raising himself almost to a standing position, smiling at the camera with his lips moving as he talked to earth.

The television broadcast from Vostok III lasted about three minutes and was of excellent definition. Nikolayev was seen making notes in his log book and glancing through his portfolio.

In a later live transmission from Vostok IV, Popovich was seen to rise from his seat, glance through his portfolio, smile, drink something and then take his seat again.

A correspondent for Tass said both spacemen had changed over to manual control.

Pravda, the official Communist party newspaper, reported the two Cosmonauts were supplied with "tiny sandwiches and pies," wrapper in cellophane and "good for eating in the first days of flight."

The article said that nutrition for spacemen presented great

SPACE TALK

'Eagle
Calling Falcon'

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's two astronauts chatted back and forth as their spaceships looped around the earth today.

"I am Golden Eagle calling Falcon," Pavel Popovich said in alerting Andrian Nikolayev. "Golden Eagle" is Popovich's code name. "Falcon" is Nikolayev.

"The temperature is 18 degrees (64.5 Fahrenheit), humidity 65 per cent. Have you understood me well?" Popovich asked.

"I am Falcon calling Golden Eagle," Nikolayev replied.

"I have understood you. Everything is all right with me. The temperature is 15 degrees (59 Fahrenheit) humidity 65 per cent. Feeling fine. Slept well."

"Golden Eagle calling. Am in perfect mood. Slept well. Feeling marvelous."

The conversation was reported by a Tass correspondent from the "Cosmodrome" space station, "Somewhere in the Soviet Union," from where the two men were launched on Saturday and Sunday.

JOY UNCONCEALED

"A business like atmosphere reigns in the (ground control) room but people cannot conceal their joy," the Tass man reported.

"Nikita Khrushchev makes frequent telephone calls to the cosmodrome, asking for the latest news and information about the group."

"Leading Soviet scientists, designers, theoreticians, in astronauts, the chief designer and (spacemen) Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov, their friends and pilot cosmonauts are on duty," the Tass report said.

Union Found 'Unfair'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers' Union was judged guilty today of a wide array of unfair labor practices in trying to prevent its employees from forming their own labor organization.
